PRICE TWO CENTS

FIVE HUNDRED DEAD IN BAD EARTHQUAKE IN GUERRERO WHERE CITIES ARE DESTROYED

CHILPANCINGO AND CHILAPA HIT

THOUSANDS ARE HOMELESS IN RUINED CITIES

FIRE FOLLOWS THE QUAKE

FLAMES RIOT IN WAKE OF FIRST DISASTER

MANY AMERICANS ARE THERE

Fears Expressed for Subjects of Uncle Sam—Details Are Meagre From Scene

MEXICO CITY, March 28.—Chilpancingo and Chilapa, towns in the state of Guerrero, were destroyed last night by an earthquake followed by fire. Five hundred people dead is the casualty estimate, while thousands are homeless.

Concepcion, Tetilla and Coatepec, three villages, were also damaged. The combined population of the destroyed municipalities is 20,000. Government troops and provisions are being rushed to the scene. Telegraphic communication is interrupted and little information has reached here. Not a building was left standing in Chilpancingo, and the greater part of Chilapa is burned. It is believed there are three hundred dead there. Most of the dead were incinerated, and the exact number will never be known.

The survivors among the inhabitants, many of whom were Americans engaged in a wild rush to escape, and hundreds were cut off by flames before they could reach the outskirts. Scores of these are said to have perished in the blazing ruins.

Advices received here state that the city has been completely wiped out.

Die Praying in Streets.

The first shock was not heavy and, as seismic disturbances are frequent, little attention was paid to it. It came early in the evening. The death-dealing quake came in the middle of the night, when the 15,000 inhabitants were asleep.

At the first heavy crash the people ran into the streets, and thousands fell on their knees amongst the crumbling houses to pray. Others rushed to the churches and were buried in the collapsing ruins.

Fire Cuts Off Escape.
The debris caught fire within a few minutes and practically every avenue of safety was closed by the conflagration.

Two Shocks Felt

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Two great earthquakes were recorded in the weather bureau here. Four excellent records of each shock were obtained, in which all the details of the phenomena are shown with great distinctness.

The first shock was much greater than the second and began with great distinctness at 6:09:22 p. m. The second shock began with equal distinctness at 10:45:22 p. m.

Duration of Shocks

The duration of the first preliminary tremors in the first shock was exactly the same in all of the records and amounted to five minutes and three seconds. The first preliminary tremor in the second shock lasted only four minutes and fifty-four seconds. The distance in the first case would be a little over 2,400 miles probably, and the second case slightly less than 2,400 miles. This disturbance agrees so closely with that indicated for an earthquake recorded on the afternoon of March 25 as to suggest that all three of these earthquakes originated in nearly the same locality.

"ROARING WELL" TELLS OF QUAKE

BELOIT, Wis., March 27.—The roaring well has "made good." March 19 it was found that the phenomenon on the farm of Charles Lathers, northeast of Beloit, was active. The well roared for several weeks before the great earthquake at San Francisco and the curious sound of rumbling, together with wind from the mouth of the well, ceased at the precise hour when the shock struck the California city. On the day a little over a week ago, when the well resumed its clamor, residents of Rock county predicted a calamity. Today it came—in Chilpancingo, Mexico.

DYNAMITE WELLS AS HELIES ASLEEP AT PORCH OF HOME

HAD CHARGE OF THE TROOPS

Smuggler Manager Incurred Hostility of Miners During Former Labor War

DENVER, March 28.—An attempt was made early this morning by unknown parties to dynamite the residence of General Bulkeley Wells, general manager of the Smuggler Union mines at Telluride. Wells was in charge of the state troops during the mining troubles several years ago, and incurred the enmity of the miners.

Wells was sleeping on an outer porch at his home when the explosion hurled him high in the air. He fell in the midst of debris many feet away. The side of the house was torn completely away and fragments of the bed were found five hundred feet from the scene. The explosion came shortly before daylight. Although the house was well guarded by patrols and arc lights, the dynamiters approached near enough to place the dynamite under Wells' bed.

BILLIARD FINISH AT LAX CLUB TONIGHT

- Interest in the billiard tournament at the La Crosse club climaxes tonight in the contest to settle a tie for championship of Class C, between Michel (65) and Eddy (75).
- The Michel-Eddy game is scheduled for 7:30, and at 8:15 Utermoehl (A, 110) and Van Steenwyk (B, 90) will play the first game of the finals between the class leaders.
- The finals will be played between the class winners: Utermoehl (A, 110), Van Steenwyk (B, 90), Welland (D, 55), with the winner of the Michel-Eddy tie game tonight representing Class C. Each of the four must play all the other class winners, and speedy work is expected in closing up the tournament.

PENALTY NOT IN CONFLICT IN THE WOLFE LIGHT CASE

In a statement today Pres. D. G. McMillan, of the La Crosse Gas & Electric company, said that the replevin action started yesterday against Attorney A. C. Wolfe was begun because of Mr. Wolfe's positive refusal to pay his light bill. Mr. McMillan says the charge of a penalty for failure to pay the bill was not in question, and it is pointed out that the state utility commission has authorized the collection of such penalties.

Mr. Wolfe said this afternoon that he raised no objection to the penalty. He explained that he had been away and his house closed for three weeks during December and January, and said the bill rendered for the two months was larger than any previous bill for full two months. He said he declined to pay the bill until it was adjusted to his satisfaction, and the trouble grew out of this.

There has been no settlement of the case.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON LA FOLLETTE BILL

- WASHINGTON, March 28.—Senator La Follette's employment of his liability bill has been favorably reported by the subcommittee of the senate committee on education and labor, with some amendments. A special meeting of the full committee has been called for Tuesday next at which it is expected action will be taken to bring the bill before the senate.

IOWA STORM HURTS MANY

Some Fatalities Among the Thirty-five Injured Are Feared to Exist

KEOKUK, Iowa, March 28.—A terrific tornado that passed over Lee county this morning completely wrecked a score of farm houses near New Boston. A dozen persons were hurt, none fatally. Three churches and a school house were reduced to kindling. Much cattle and stock was killed. The cyclone was moving westward when it struck New Boston.

Town is Wrecked
BLOOMINGTON, Ill., March 28.—Twenty persons were injured, it is feared some fatally, and many farm houses wrecked by a tornado passing over Deer Creek, near here, last night. Part of the town was completely destroyed.

MARTIN GOES DOWN BEFORE HARRY LEWIS

BALTIMORE, Md., March 28.—Harry Lewis Thursday night got the decision over his old rival, Terry Martin, after fifteen rounds of fast fighting. Lewis proved himself Martin's master both at boxing and ring generalship, and was the aggressor from start to finish.

Martin showed his best in the mix-ups, but he fought himself out in the first rounds, and after that, although he landed on Lewis' face and body, his blows lacked steam. Lewis scored two knockdowns.

MARINE RAILWAY AND MOORAGE SURE

CITY PLANS TO DREDGE BIG LAKE FOR LAUNCH HOUSES

SPECIAL MEETING TONIGHT

Right to Install Marine Railway Granted and Every Prospect for Success With Mooring Deal

Early success is attending the efforts of the La Crosse Motorboat club in securing through the cooperation of the city administration, suitable mooring places for launches and launch houses, and at a special meeting tonight the committee appointed to investigate the possibilities in this direction will make a report showing the city is already planning to provide an ideal place. Action, likely in the way of an authorized application from the club to the council, will be taken by the meeting this evening to insure early consummation of the plans.

The city plans, ultimately to rid the levee and water front of all obstructions, such as skiff ferries, and boat-houses, coal docks and unsightly dumping grounds for refuse. It is planned to clean up the levee from the new levee park to a point in the southern part of the city, where another park is to be installed, and to extend a cement walk, and probably a line of trees the entire length of the river front as a promenade. This necessarily will leave the launch owners without a "home," so in view of this the city has long been considering what to do with the launch owners and their property. The plan hit upon it to utilize a large space between the point of the new levee park and the C. M. & St. P. bridge over the La Crosse river. This space

DECLARED INSANE ON RE-EXAMINATION

JOHN M. BECKER SOUGHT TO BE RESTORED TO RIGHTS

MAY BE SENT TO ASYLUM

Has a Few Thousand Dollars but Physicians Decide He is Not Competent to Handle It

John M. Becker, twice paroled from the insane asylum, and once in the meantime being declared sane, was declared insane for the third time, this morning, upon an application made by himself.

Becker is under the guardianship of J. G. Becker, his son, of the North side, who has charge of a few thousand dollars belonging to his father. The son was anxious that he be declared sane and take his money, but Dr. Marquardt and Houck found his condition worse than ever before. His talk is sometimes irrational and it is likely he will be committed to the Salem asylum again.

Becker was sent to Mendota, and transferred to West Salem as incurable. Superintendent McKown at that time paroled him, and he was declared sane after an examination. He engaged in some real estate transactions, in which he lost considerable money and was re-examined and again committed to West Salem, from which he was paroled for a second time. His effort to be restored to his civil rights failed today, however.

CARR GETS MONEY.

George Carr this morning in Judge Hunt's court received $15.50 from the Jewel Tea Company whose property was some time ago attached to the extent of $30, Louis Omerberg serving the papers.

CONGRESSMAN SHOTS NEGRO AND BYSTANDER IN A FIGHT

MADISON GAS CO. METERS SLOW AND VOLTAGE UNEVEN

INTERESTING FACTS ADDUCED AT MADISON HEARING

LESSONS FOR CONSUMERS

Importance of Efficient Lamps Is Shown to Be Vital in Fixing Cost of Light

MADISON, Wis., March 28.—(Special.)—Hearings in the Madison gas case, which has been one of the first of its kind in the state, have just been concluded. The reports of the experts of the commission brought forth many interesting results, which are probably applicable to a number of other cities of the state. Of 192 gas meters inspected by Prof. C. F. Burgess, 100 were found to be running too fast; 68 were correct and only 21 were slow. Before a meter is adjudged incorrect it is permitted to register either 2 per cent too slow or fast. The results as applied to electric meters were not so bad, but the varying voltage was found by Expert O. H. Ensign to be "absurd."

Variations in voltage of 20 per cent were discovered. Mr. Ensign advised the commission that "voltage be furnished which shall not vary more than 6 per cent and shall approximate a variation of 3 per cent either side of the voltage for which the lamp is selected."

Hits the Consumer.
Prof. Ensign said that such a varying voltage deteriorated the lamps, and condemned the system of refusal to renew lamps, except when they are burned out. Refusal to renew lamps which have deteriorated "is robbery so far as the customer is concerned, for lamps can remain and still give light when their candle-power has dropped to such a low figure that they are practically worthless and still take nearly the full load current."

Some concrete examples were given by Prof. Ensign to show that when lamps had deteriorated in efficiency below 80 per cent, the result was that the consumer had to pay for light, which he never actually received. For example a light, deteriorated in efficiency to 5.3 candle power will require 9.3 watts per candle power or for the lamp 49.29 watts.

Then take a lamp which has not so deteriorated in efficiency, but which will give 10.7 candle power. The lamp will require only 4.84 watts per candle power, or will require 51.78 watts for the lamp. As evinced from the figures both lights require practically the same amount of electricity, but the one which has not deteriorated in efficiency, will give double the amount of illumination for the same cost to the consumer.

A lamp in good condition, which will give 13.8 candle power, was then compared. This lamp would use but 3.95 watts per candle power, or 54.51 watts for the lamp. All these tests, made by university experts for the commission, show that if the lamps furnished by the company have deteriorated in efficiency the amount of current consumed will be the same, but the amount of illumination is diminished.

Want Franchise Valued.
The case against the Madison company has been a test case, so far as the gas companies are concerned, and every effort has been made by bringing experts here to testify, to have the commission allow for "good will and franchise values."

Albert E. Forstall, of New York, and Prof. Mitchell, head of Stevens' institute of that city, both considered as the greatest experts in the country, on the side of the gas companies, gave testimony in the case. Both contended that a company should be allowed one-third above its actual value as a "going concern," or as is ordinarily understood, for franchise rights.

Arguments in the Madison case will be made sometime the latter part of April and it is probable that a decision will not be rendered before May. Attorney E. C. Mack of Milwaukee appears as a general representative for the gas and electrical companies.

GILLETTE HEARING DELAYED.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 28.—The Gillette hearing was this morning postponed until 4:30 this afternoon. The delay is pending a completion of the private examination of an anonymous witness who had submitted an affidavit. It is understood this witness made an affidavit to facts which will be withheld until the governor has decided his responsibility and the truth of his statement.

SMALL RACE WAR STARTS ON ST. CAR

ALABAMA NEGRO HATER "CRAZY" IN GUN PLAY

HE IS OUT ON BONDS

No One Fatally Hurt, But Innocent Victim Says He Will Prosecute Lawmaker

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28.—Representative J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama last night shot and slightly injured Lewis Lumby, a negro, of Washington, and Thomas McCreery, a white man, a horse trainer, of New York.

Lumby received a scalp wound. McCreery a flesh wound in the leg. Heflin was released on $5,000 bail.

Self Defense?
Self defense will be Heflin's plea in defense for the shooting. Great difficulty was experienced in getting a bond on account of the qualifications required for bondsmen here. George Driver, a saloon keeper, furnished Heflin's bond. Thomas McCreery, who was accidentally shot by Heflin, declared he will prosecute the congressman.

Negro Grabbed Him.
Heflin today stated the negro grabbed him by the coat lapel, and made a gesture to draw a gun. Heflin said, "I drew my gun, grabbed the negro by the neck, and shot. He wrenched away. I shoved him off the car. I don't know whether I hit him over the head with the gun or not. I may have. He cursed me after reaching the street. Angered beyond all reason I reached through the window and shot at him. I don't know whether I hit him or not."

Lumby today is resting quietly. Hearing Postponed.
Heflin appeared in the district attorney's office today accompanied by Representative Clayton and several congressmen. He asked that the police court case be continued to allow time to secure counsel, which was granted. The date of the preliminary hearing will be decided Monday.

WEATHER FORECAST

Coldest at La Crosse, 26; warmest, 32; wind, 6 miles; precipitation .30 of an inch.

Extremes: Havre, 6 below; several southern cities record 80.

Forecasts today:
Wisconsin—Generally fair tonight and Sunday; not much change in the temperature.

Minnesota—Generally fair tonight and Sunday; not much change in temperature.

Iowa—Generally fair tonight and Sunday; not much change in temperature.

Weather Conditions.
Rain or snow has been quite general in the northern districts from Oregon to the New England states, and in the central Mississippi valley. The precipitation was accompanied by local thunderstorms and high winds in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and lake region. The heaviest precipitation occurred on lower Lake Michigan, 1.26, and 1.08 inches being recorded at Milwaukee and Chicago respectively.

The weather continues unsettled from Texas to the lower lake region and north Atlantic states, with low pressure. High pressure areas are located over the north Pacific slope and in the south Atlantic states.

Generally fair weather is indicated for this section tonight and Sunday without much change in temperature.

When misery is at hand there isn't much pleasure in remembering former joys.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The R. L. Kenyon Company wishes to state that stories now in circulation to the effect that we are going to discontinue our family trade in upholstery, furniture repairing and mattress work, are entirely false and without foundation.

We are now better equipped than ever before for this work and our policy of high class workmanship, prompt service and reasonable prices will be maintained. By reason of our reorganization, Mr. Kenyon will take entire charge of our new factory at 119 South Second street, and will give his entire time to the mechanical part of the business.

Mr. G. W. Thompson will have charge of the store and office on Main street, and in this connection we wish to state that we have the largest and most up-to-date stock of upholstery goods that has ever been shown in La Crosse. Our stock of mattress tickings and fillings is exceptionally well selected for this season's business, and with the installation of a compressed air cleaning and filling machine, our mattress business is bound to assume very large proportions this season.

LADIES WILL HAVE ONE DAY EACH WEEK

BASEBALL DIRECTORS TO GIVE FREE FARES FRIDAY

EBERLY SENDS HIS CONTRACT

La Crosse Now Has Cinch on Fast Eau Claire Pitcher Who was Sought by All League Clubs

Every day might have been Ladies' day with the old (No'a) count in "The Red Mill," but it's different with the directors of the Wisconsin-Illinois league. Though there was application before the directors by some teams, to have two or three games a week set aside for free admission to the ladies, but the league is no Standard Oil company, and in view of the fact the ladies' money is of the same bright hue as the men's the directors decided they could afford to give no more than one day a week to the ladies. Consequently Friday was set aside for this purpose, except when it falls upon holidays and festival days, when the ladies will have to pay the same as others.

Eberly's Contract In
President John Elliott of the local association this morning received a signed contract from Roy Eberly, Eau Claire's fast pitcher, insuring this star for La Crosse this year. About all the other teams in the league have been after Eberly.

Madison Journal: Manager Cassibone left this afternoon for Cambria where he will visit Pitcher Dodge, who has promised to play with Madison this coming season. Dodge is regarded as the best timber signed in the state organization, and Mr. Cassibone is anxious to have him sign a contract, thereby removing all doubt about his coming here. He lives on a farm some distance from Cambria, and it will be necessary for the Madison manager to take a drive to reach him.

"Mike" Birmingham of Janesville has been signed to report here April 15. He is a first baseman with a long record. His fielding is fine, but he is not especially strong with the stick. Eddie Bach, a Madison boy who has done some attractive work as a pitcher, will try out with the senators this spring. He is still young for professional baseball, but is strong and shows promise. He may make good this season. He has many friends who would be pleased to see him land a steady job on the pitching staff.

Rockford Republic: The batting averages of the players signed by Golden for the Rockford team of the Wisconsin-Illinois league makes it apparent that Rockford will have a hard hitting aggregation. Blexrud, an Indian outfielder from the Western Canada league, who was signed yesterday, has a batting average of .336, which he secured while with the Edmonton team last year. He played in 67 games, too, so this wasn't any record of a half dozen opportunities, where by chance he might stand high on the roll of honor. He got his experience under Van Haltren, the veteran Oakland manager.

Al Meyers of Houghton, Mich., another outfielder, comes with a batting average of .273. Kid Taylor of Houghton hit .285. Shugart, who will manage the team, ought to hit over .300 in this league.

Golden has thirty-six men under contract but expects only twenty-five to report here. These men will begin coming in three weeks.

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription." The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous colitis), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections it is often successful in affecting cures.

The "Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities incident to women only. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nerve. For weak worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the breakdown, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subsiding pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulae of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines.

The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into Doctor Pierce's medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

FRISCO CUE ARTIST FINDS THIS OUT YESTERDAY

IS DEFEATED BY CONKLIN

Chicago Billiardist Wins From Westerner by a Score of 400 to 313 in Game to Decide Triple Tie

CHICAGO, March 28.—C. C. Conklin of Chicago defeated H. A. Wright of San Francisco last night in the second game of the play off to decide the triple tie resulting from the amateur national championship tournament at 14.2 billiards. The score was 400 to 313.

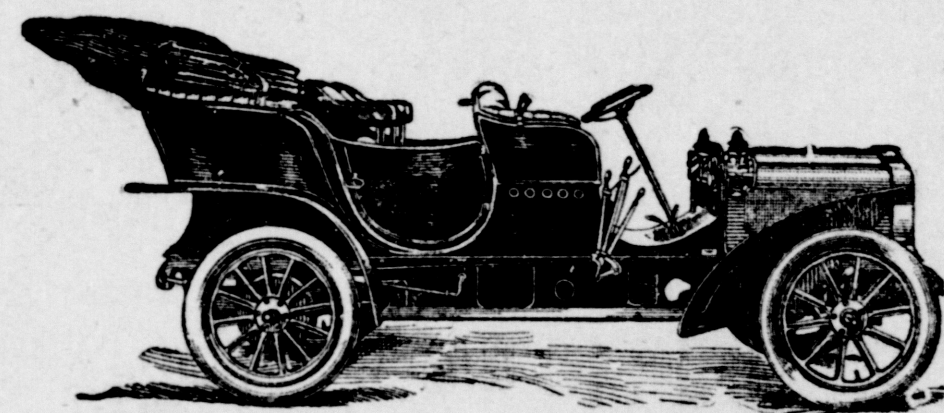

Conklin was far the steadier of the two, especially in the first half of the contest. He took the lead in the first inning with a run of 17 and was never headed, his best effort being a run of 71 in the tenth inning. This brought his score up to 250, an average of 25 and a pace greater than Wright could hold. The San Francisco man was off stroke and also played in hard luck. His recent illness, from which he recovered only yesterday, was sufficient explanation for the former condition, but only the perversity of the ivory could explain the second. Several times when he had the points coming fast, a line up broke up his combinations and Conklin's leaves were almost invariably difficult. Wright made his high run in the twentieth inning, getting 52 in that session. A miscue stopped Conklin in the twenty-second inning when he needed only sixteen to complete his string and then he took three more innings to get the points. Score:

Conklin—17 2 47 1 5 40 26 8 33 71 6 16 18 5 19 0 32 1 0 4 1 32 3 10 3—Total, 400; high run, 71; average, 16.

Wright—0 2 13 44 48 0 1 19 0 0 16 21 19 14 5 0 4 30 52 7 2 19 5—Total, 313; high run, 52; average, 12 13.25.

The third game of the series will be played by Wright and Demarest.

THE DIFFERENCE IN AUTOMOBILES

is not only in their outside appearance; many inferior cars look fine. The repair bills which you get later on will explain the reason why you are deceived into believing that cars which are sold at confidential inside prices are as good as standard machines which are sold at the same price to all purchasers everywhere.

The TANBERG AUTO CO. has selected its 1908 line with exceptional care, having had the pick of any and all cars manufactured, and offers what competent judges declare to be the best automobile values obtainable.

The WHITE Steam Car has been made famous by uninterrupted success in all prominent contests which have taken place during the past seven years.

The recent trip of R. R. Owen in the "Mudlark" from New York to New Orleans over almost impassable roads is only a recent achievement, similar difficult feats having been credited to the famous OLDSMOBILE on numerous occasions.

The service given by the three BUICK cars owned by the Roswell Automobile Co., of Roswell, New Mexico, in carrying the mail with a record for promptness, exceeded by only two mail routes in the United States, and covering up to date over 100,000 miles would seem to indicate that for service the BUICK at $1,250.00 is without a rival.

The noiselessness, simplicity and quiet elegance of the POPE-WAVERLY Electrics have won for this type of car a supremacy in the electric field.

We are pleased to arrange for a demonstration with intending purchasers and feel sure that when you have once become acquainted with the TANBERG AUTO CO. you will readily see the advantage of dealing with a concern which proposes to make the interests of its patrons paramount.

SPORTING BRIEFS.

The Chicago Cubs defeated the Montgomery, Ala., team Thursday 1 to 0. Manager Chance covered the first sack and succeeded in getting 10 put outs and one hit.

Reports are to the effect that the reason Pfister refused to sign the Cubs contract is that he wants more money.

The Nashville, Tenn., team were easy victims for the White Sox on Thursday, the latter winning 5 to 2. White Sox No. 2 have struck their hoodoo again, going down to defeat Thursday 3 to 2 before the Wichita, Kas., team.

Ed Schlatter of Toledo has been purchased by the Milwaukee Brewers.

The New York Americans defeated the Toledo team Thursday 9 to 2. New York Giants were again victorious over the Dallas, Texas, team, Thursday, winning 3 to 1.

The Boston Americans gave the Memphis, Tenn., team a shut out in their last game, winning 7 to 0.

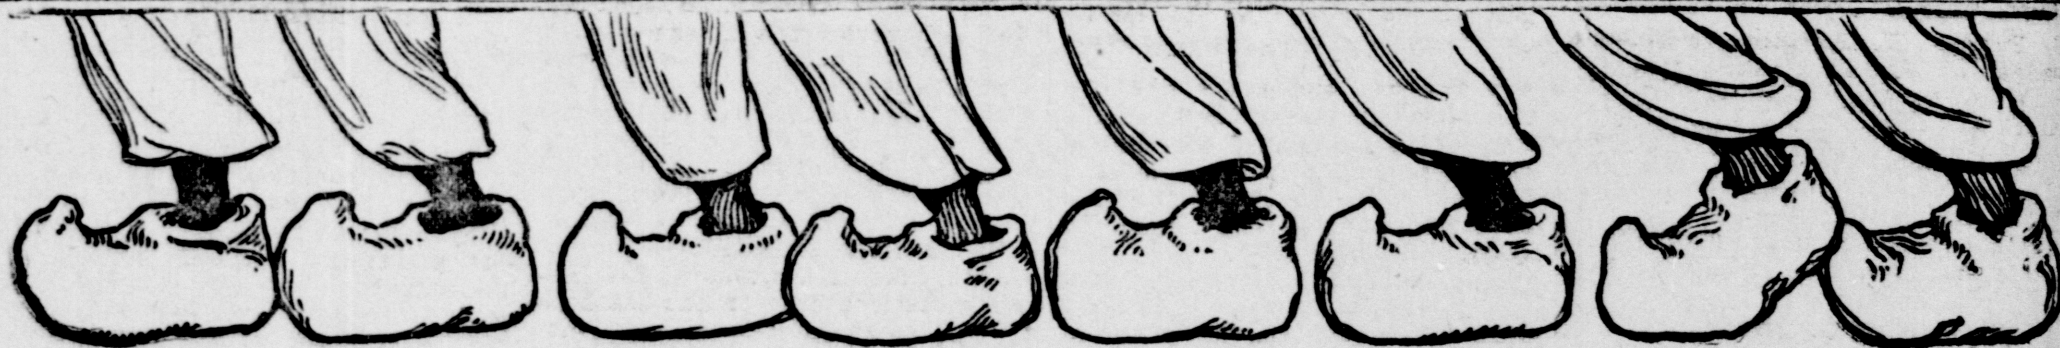

Cincinnati received a bouquet in the shape of a lemon from the Atlanta, Ga., team Thursday, losing their game 6 to 2.

$90 HORSE WINS ENGLISH CLASSIC

LIVERPOOL, March 28.—The Grand National steeplechase of 3,000 sovereigns, on the Grand National course, distance about four miles 856 yards, was won by Maj. F. Douglas-Pennant's Rubio. William Cooper's Mattie MacGregor was second and P. Whitaker's The Lawyer III, finished third.

Rubio came from America two or three years ago. He was once purchased for $90, after he had broken down under training, and was driven to a trap. It was some time before his jumping qualities were discovered.

5948 Tucked Over Waist with Girdle, 32 to 42 bust.

Over waists not alone continue greatly in vogue but appear to take on a new lease of life with each coming season. This one is charming, attractive yet absolutely simple and is adapted to a whole host of materials. It can be worn over any girdle and it includes the later Japanese sleeves which are fitted up rather snugly under the arms. In the illustration rough finished pongee is trimmed with banding, but linen and various other washable materials are quite as appropriate as are the fashionable silk and wools, and over waists of the soft sort will be greatly worn throughout both the spring and the summer.

The over waist is made with front and backs. It is tucked simply but becomingly and is joined to a foundation girdle over which the full one is arranged.

The quantity of material required for the medium sizes is 2 yards 21 or 24, 1 1/2 yards 27 or 1 yard 44 inches wide, with 3 yards of banding, 1/2 yard of silk for girdle.

The pattern 5948 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 42 inch bust measure and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two-cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery.)

PAY OF LIFE SAVERS.

(Chicago Daily News.) The house of representatives at Washington has passed a bill for an increase in the salaries of the men in the United States life-saving service. However, the measure as it goes to the senate fails to provide compensation for those who are disabled while facing danger. Justice demands, as President Roosevelt has insisted, that ample provision be made for life savers who receive permanent injury in the service and also for their dependents.

The ranks of the men at the life-saving stations both on the seashore and the great lakes have been depleted in part because of lack of a pension system insuring them against destitution if thrown out of work because of disability. The house bill, by providing for increases in the salaries of surfmen and stationkeepers, aims to make the service more attractive, so far as wages are concerned.

This new salary schedule, if put in operation, coupled with the reduced demand for workers in general industry, doubtless would draw many good men into the service. The promise of pensions is needed, however, to retain such men in the life-saving crews.

LYMAN GAGE AND HIS CHICKENS

(Washington Post.) Former Secretary of the Treasury Lyman J. Gage is at the New Willard. Mr. Gage registers from New York, although he claims his home in San Diego, Cal. He came here from New York and will return there this afternoon. "I have been in New York for the last four months," said the former secretary last night. "I arrived there just at the time that financial affairs began to get interesting, and have remained ever since."

"I have not enough knowledge of the political situation to say anything of interest, and if I did have anything to say about politics I would not say it. I am out of politics."

"I can say, however, that it is like a bird escaping from a cage for one to get out of political and public life. I have been away from California nearly four months, and I find myself longing to get back to my chickens. I have some of the finest white Plymouth Rocks ever bred. I have a place of four acres, where I raise all kinds of fruit, and last year grew sixteen varieties of vegetables. I enjoyed seeing them grow and enjoyed eating them, too, but the growing of them was my greatest pleasure. It is fine to gaze out upon the mountains where the sun and shadows fall. I tell you, paintings are not in it. One must get back to nature if he would experience the things in life that are worth living for."

The assertion in Washington that the fuss between Hepburn and "Uncle Joe" Cannon over the Sherman act may serve to defeat the speaker for re-election is good news. May the festive bother continue until the gavel changes hands.

Love is the sparkling wine of life. The spirit of joy and laughter. Alas, the gentle youth soon learn marriage is the morning after.

Says Peruna is a Valuable Nerve and Blood Remedy.

MISS BESSIE FARRELL.

MISS BESSIE FARRELL, 1011 Third Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., is President of the Young People's Istian Temperance Association. She writes:

"Peruna is certainly a valuable nerve and blood remedy, calculated to build up the broken-down health of worn-out women. I have found by personal experience that it acts as a wonderful restorer of lost strength, assisting the stomach to assimilate and digest the food, and building up worn-out tissues. In my work I have had occasion to recommend it freely, especially to women."

"I know of nothing which is better to build up the strength of a young mother, in fact all the ailments peculiar to women, so I am pleased to give it my hearty endorsement."

Dr. Hartman has prescribed Peruna for many thousand women, and he never fails to receive a multitude of letters like the above, thanking him for the wonderful benefits received.

His Part on the Cast
"I think I have a place for you," said the manager.

"Yes?" said the fallen star.
"Yes. You see in the last act of Bronson's new piece, the villagers organize a mob and hang the villain in effigy."

"Do you think I'll take any such part as that, leading a mob of such parts? Why, man, when I played 'Macbeth' I was called before the curtain."

"I don't intend you to lead the supers. You are to be the effigy,"—London Tit-Bits.

The King's visit to "Dr." Brighton tempts the "Onlooker" to recall the following true story. As the Rottingdean bus was one day slowly plodding along the front one of the outside passengers suddenly turned to his neighbor, and pointed out the house in which his majesty had been staying. "That, sir," he said, "is 'his royal highness the Duke of Fife's' house. I 'ave the honor to drain it.'"—Pal Mail Gazette.

TWENTIETH CENTURY
TELEPHONE GROWTH

Since the beginning of the twentieth century, more than seventy thousand telephones have been added to those previously connected with the system of the Wisconsin Telephone Company. This is an average growth of more than 10,000 a year, or nearly a thousand a month, and the increase keeps up month in and month out. Each thousand added, of course, makes the system of additional value to its patrons.

In 1900, the Wisconsin Telephone Company had in use 20,000 telephones in a population of two million. To-day there are on its own lines and those of its connecting companies, four and one-half times as many telephones in a population of about two and three-quarters millions. These figures show how the chief telephone system of the Badger State is growing towards the point when every family and every place of business in city and country will be "on the wire."

More than that, as part of the Bell system, the lines of the Wisconsin Company are included in a network which covers the country.

THE PAUPER
OF PARK
LANEBy
William
Le
Queux

In the city, as head of Statham Brothers, foreign bankers, whose offices in Old Bond Street are known to every City man, he was always affable, yet very shrewd. He and his brother could drive hard bargains, but they were always charitable, and the name of the firm constantly figured for a substantial amount in the lists in response to any charitable appeal.

From small beginnings—the early days of both brothers being shrouded in mystery—they had risen to become what they now were, a house second only to the Rothschilds in financial power, a house whose assistance was sought by kings and emperors, and whose interests were world-wide.

That morning old Sam Statham appeared unusually agitated. Rising at five o'clock, as was his habit, summer and winter, he had been hard at work for hours when Levi brought him his tiny cup of black Turkish coffee. Then, glancing at the clock upon his desk, he had risen, gone to the window, and gazed out eagerly, as though in search of someone.

It was eight o'clock, and there were plenty of people about. But, though he looked up and down the thoroughfare, he was disappointed. So he snapped his thin fingers impatiently and returned to his writing.

His personal appearance was truly insignificant. When, in the street, he was pointed out to people as the great Samuel Statham, they invariably expressed astonishment. There was nothing of the blatant millionaire about him. On the contrary, he was a thin, grey, sad-looking man, rather short of stature, with a face very broad in the brow and very narrow at the chin, ending with a small, scraggy white beard clipped to a point. His cheeks were hollow, his dark eyes sunken, the skin upon his brow tightly stretched, his lips pale and thin, and about his clean-shaven upper lip a hardness that was in entire opposition with his generous instincts towards his less fortunate fellow men.

One of his peculiarities of dress was that he always wore a piece of greasy black satin ribbon, tied loosely in a bow as a cravat. The same piece did duty both by day and at evening.

His clothes, for the most part, hung upon his lean, shrunken limbs as though they had been made for a much more robust man, and his hats were indescribably greasy and out of date. When he went to the City Levi compelled him to put on his best silk hat and a decent frock-coat, but often of an afternoon he might be seen sitting alone in the Park and mistaken for some poor, broken-down old man the sadness of whose face compelled sympathy.

This carelessness of dress appears to be one of the inevitable results of great fortune. A man should never be judged by his coat nowadays. The struggling clerk who lives in busy Brixton or cackling Croydon usually gives himself greater airs, and dresses far better than the head of the firm, while the dainty typewriter wears prettier blouses and neater footgear than his own out-door daughters, with their slang, their "pals," and their distorted ideas of maiden modesty.

But old Sam Statham had neither kin nor kin. He was a lonely man—how utterly lonely only he himself knew. He had only his perpetual calculations of finance, his profit and loss accounts, and occasional chats with the ever-faithful Levi to occupy his days. He seldom if ever left London. Even the stifling August days when his clerks went to the mountains or the sea, he still remained in London, because, as he openly declared, he hated to mix with strangers.

Curiously enough, almost the only man he trusted was his private secretary, Charlie Rolfe, the smart young man who came there from ten o'clock till two each day, wrote his private letters, and was paid a very handsome salary.

Usually old Sam was a very quiet-mannered man whom nothing disturbed. But that morning he was distinctly upset. He had scarcely slept a single wink, and his deep-sunken eyes and almost haggard face told of a great anxiety wearing out his nerves.

He tried to add up a long column of figures upon a sheet of paper before him, but gave it up with a deep sigh. Again he rose, glanced out of the window, audibly denounced in unmeasured terms a motor-bus which, tearing past, caused his room to shake, and then returned to his table.

But he was far too impatient to sit there long, for again he rose and paced the room, his grey brows knit in evident displeasure, his thin, bony hands clenched tightly, and from his lips escaping muttered imprecations upon some person whom he did not name.

Once he laughed—a hard little laugh. His lip curled in exultant triumph as he stuck his hands into the pockets of his shabby jacket and again went to look over the brisbrise curtains of pale pink silk into the roadway.

For a moment he looked, then, with a start, he stood glaring out. Next instant he sprang back from the window with a look of terror upon his blanched cheeks. He had caught sight of "somebody whose presence there was both unwelcome and unexpected, and the encounter had filled him with anxiety and dismay."

As he had gazed inquiringly forth with his face close to the window-pane, his eyes had met those of a man of about his own age, shabby, with grey, ragged hair, threadbare clothes, broken boots, and a soft grey felt hat, darkly stained around the band—a tramp evidently. The stranger was leaning idly against the park railings, evidently regarding the house with some wonder, when the sad face of its master had appeared.

The pair glared at each other for one single second. Then Sam Statham, recognizing in the other's crafty eyes a look of cruel, relentless revenge, started back into the room, breathless and deathly pale. He staggered to his chair, supporting himself by clutching at its back.

"Then they did not lie!" he gasped aloud. "He—he's alive—therefore so it's all over! I—I saw his intentions plainly written in his face. I've played the game and lost! He has returned, therefore I must face the inevitable. Yes," he added, with that same bitter laugh, only this time it was the hoarse, discordant laugh of a man who found himself cornered, without any possible means of escape. "Yes—this is the end—I must die—today!" And he wistfully glanced round the room as though in terror of his own voice, "Yes—before the sun sets."

THESE ARE THE MEN.

The regular republican ticket for delegates to the national convention, supporting Senator R. M. La Follette, is as follows:

Delegates at large:
William C. Brunker,
Henry Allen Cooper,
Atley Peterson,
Isaac Stephenson.
District delegates:
Edwin M. Wing,
Walter Houser.

This is THE ticket. There is another ticket in the field, a "Taft" ticket, but it is not in the field because Mr. Taft wants it there, or because the men who are fathering it are for Taft. Most of them are for Cannon, or Fairbanks, or Foraker.
But these men are not in the possible class, and so the people in Wisconsin who are against La Follette are for Taft, whom they would not elect if they had their way, over anybody but La Follette.

It seems the proper thing for men who claim this state as their home
to support the first pretentious Wisconsin presidential candidate the state has ever offered. It is a time for personal feeling to be laid aside,
and for us all to subscribe to the doctrine that Wisconsin is bigger than any of us, and that a Wisconsin man is our choice over any man of any other state.

Just clip this list of delegates from this editorial, and keep it for reference election day. It is the key to correct and loyal voting on republican national delegates.

THE PEARL BUTTON BUSINESS.

The incorporation of the Wisconsin Pearl Button company, following as it does closely on the heels of the introduction of the Esch-Dawson bill to preserve and multiply the clam supply in the river, is gratifying to La Crosse. It shows that the founders of that business propose to build it up, and have faith in the future of the enterprise. The pearl button business is a great industry, and there is no reason why La Crosse

should not become the center of button manufacture on the upper Mississippi river. The men who are engaged in it here have shown push and enterprise under conditions making the future not altogether encouraging, and we believe that in view of the promise of a great field in the future, fostered by national legislation, they will press on to great achievements.

THE MERCHANTS DID IT.

"We used The Tribune as a means of publicity in the original fight against the trading stamps. We did not ask help of any other papers, and I do not recall that any other paper
mentioned the subject until the fight was won, although one of them did print some stuff for the trading stamp manager."

The above statement was made this morning by D. S. Fairbairn, for years secretary of the Merchants' Protective association, and the active agent for it in the fight that drove the trading stamps from La Crosse
in 1904.

It is all very unimportant—not even interesting, perhaps—but the silly and palpably dishonest attempt of contemporaries to show that they accomplished something concerning which they were too cautious to print
a word until they found the war was over, seems to deserve just a paragraph. Examination of the newspaper files show that The Tribune published the first article opposed to the stamps on June 29, 1904, a second on July 1, and about an even dozen more during the course of the campaign. Minute examination of files of evening contemporaries fails to show a single reference to the episode in any paper but The Tribune, excepting on July 1, when an evening paper published a defense of the stamps signed by the manager of the stamp company.

But, as we have said, the discussion is frivolous. The stamp fight was a business matter, and was attended to by the merchants themselves. No newspaper drove the stamps out, and nothing but a united and vigorous effort by the merchants, managed through their aggressive
secretary, could have won the victory.
The Tribune assumes in the affair only credit for having dared to print the news, and for having unhesitatingly taken up the matter as an ally of the business men in one of the finest demonstrations of co-operative executive ability ever afforded by the merchant public of any city.

THIS STATE SAFE

Senator Thomas Morris said to The Tribune yesterday that his interpretation of the recent decision affecting the Minnesota railroad rate laws is that its character will not affect the Wisconsin laws on this subject. St.
Paul advises say that, while Attorney General Young is so confused as to the scope of the opinion that he has asked the court to elucidate, attorneys for the railroads admit that it is fatal to no portion of the law excepting the penalties prescribed. Mr.
Morris' interpretation seems to coincide with that of these lawyers, and it is probable we may rest assured that, excepting in the event of particular schedules established by the commission being found unjust there is no possibility of supreme court interference with the laws of this state.

LAUGHING IT OFF.

One smiles at the sally of C. G.
Dawes, characterized by Senator La Follette as a "tool" of the trusts, when in reply to a request for an interview answering the senator's charges he said, "It's a waste of lather to shave an ass."

But that was no answer, and there is the inference that it is in line with the methods used so frequently to evade direct issues. Mr. Dawes has made us laugh, but he has convinced nobody that the senator was mistaken.

In line with this was the attack made upon President Roosevelt by Congressman "Jack" Beall, of Texas.
Mr. Beall was funny, and he made the house, and the public, laugh good naturally. But he said not one thing that would undermine one jot of the president's popularity, because the great and important things undertaken by the executive were recognized by him as impregnable, and were ignored in the speech.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Cheap Substitutes and
"Just As Good As."

Unscrupulous dealers, mindful only of profit and caring nothing for the health of their patrons, are offering for sale low-grade, impure whiskey, which they tell you is as "good as Duffy's."

It is a cheap concoction and fraud, intended to deceive the people. Of course, when a remedy has been before the public so long, has been prescribed and used by the best doctors and in all the prominent hospitals, and has carried the blessing of health into so many thousands of homes as DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY has, imitations are bound to arise. But they can imitate the bottle and label only—no one can imitate the contents.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a digested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture, its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

Any firm that will sell imitation or substitution goods will sell impure drugs. The firm that is dishonest in one thing would not hesitate to be dishonest in another. Whenever you see imitation and substitution goods offered for sale by a firm, beware of anything and everything put up by that firm. You endanger your own life and the lives of your family and friends by dealing with them.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS! Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. A facsimile of the genuine bottle, full size, is printed here so that you may easily recognize it. It is our own patented bottle—round, amber colored, and with the name "Duffy's Malt Whiskey Company" blown into the glass. The trademark—the Old Chemist's Head—is on the label, and over the cork there is an engraved paper seal. Be certain this seal is not broken.

REFUSE IMITATIONS AND SUBSTITUTES

When you ask for DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY be sure you get the genuine which is the only absolutely pure malt whiskey containing medicinal, health-giving qualities. Imitations and substitutes, far from relieving the sick, are positively harmful. Demand DUFFY'S, and be sure you get it. Be on your guard against refilled bottles.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey promotes health and longevity,

KEEPS THE OLD YOUNG—THE YOUNG STRONG

It is the only whiskey recognized by doctors everywhere as a family medicine. The genuine is sold by all reliable druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1 a bottle. Write Dr. R. HERMAN SINGER TO RUN FOR ALDERMAN Nomination papers were filed yesterday morning with City Clerk Jos. Sieger by Herman William Singer, 1436 Caledonia street as an independent candidate on the official ballot for alderman of the Ninth ward.

Mr. Singer was raised on the North side and is well known in the ward. He is a graduate of the Le Crosse high school, was a member of the North side Franklin club for several years, and is now secretary of the St. James club. He has been engaged in reportorial work for the past several years.

"What we need in this ward," said Mr. P. Knutson, 1452 Caledonia street, "is a man who will not resign after a few months' service, and who will give adequate representation to the people of his ward. I believe Mr. Singer would make a good alderman."

DARLING GETS ROAD CONTRACT

The contract for the balance of the highway between West Salem and Mindora was yesterday awarded to Fremont Darling.

Mr. Darling bid $1.49 per cubic foot for grading and filling the road from the crest of the hill to the foot of the hill. Specifications submitted by Joseph Feibig were $1.50 for the same work.

Louis Miller has been cutting the rock from the top of the former hill and is nearly through with his work. The entire road is expected to be finished by the last of May.

RUNAWAYS KNOCK LAUNDRY WAGON

An exciting runaway occurred on Mill street yesterday when the delivery team belong to Jacob Hahn, the Mill street grocer, became frightened. The animals started from the store and went up Mill street at a gallop. When they reached a point in front of the North Side laundry they hit a delivery wagon belonging to that firm and upset it. This did not serve as sufficient cause to stop them and they continued up the street. They turned at the road leading to French island and continued in their flight until they reached the island. They were stopped here.

The horses were not injured but the wagon was damaged to some extent.

WILL SUE AUTO OWNER FOR DAMAGES

George Fisher announces he will start suit soon to recover damages on his horse, which was seriously injured recently as a result of being frightened by the automobile driven by Peter Hoffweber, the North side plumber.

According to Mr. Fisher the horse has been scared so badly that he is practically useless and sustained injuries that may yet prove fatal.

At the time of the accident the horse was frightened by the machine of Hoffweber, it is claimed by Mr. Fischer.

TRAP EXHIBITION BY CHAMPIONS

An exhibition in trap shooting will be given on the old Sawyer and Austin Mill site at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The exhibition, which is to be conducted under the supervision of the Burlington Gun club will be given by Messrs. Hersey and Fitzgerald, two crack trap shots.

DEDICATION OF NEW GREEK CHURCH APR. 9

Invitations have been sent out by the Rev. Salmone, pastor of the Syrian Catholic church to the members and friends of the congregation to be present at the dedicatory services that are to be held on the morning of April 9.

After the dedication ceremonies are completed a Turkish dinner is to be served at the home of Rev. Salmone on Caledonia street.

SITE IS NOT YET DECIDED UPON

As yet the committee in charge of the selecting of a site for the new M. E. church have as yet reached no conclusion. The committee has several sites in view, but will not make a decision for some time.

NORTH SIDE BRIEFS.

The North side church notices will be found on page 11 today.

Fred Kaiser, bookkeeper and clerk at the L. E. Lavaque grocery store, was last evening given the first degree by Hamilton lodge No. 157, Knights of Pythias, of the North side.

Miss Larkin and Miss Hatch, teachers on the north side, will leave today for their respective homes where they will spend their Easter vacations.

Mrs. Andrew Lamber of Galesville is the guest of relatives and friends on the north side for a few days.

Mrs. Chance of Galesville is calling on friends at Grand Crossing. Howard Warren, 1437 George street, is suffering much pain from an abscess.

Mrs. E. Humphrey of George street was called to Thompson, Ill., yesterday, to attend the funeral of her uncle.

Mr. J. Fries of Midway was a guest at the home of J. B. Malay on Loomis street yesterday.

G. Downing of Rush, Wis., is a guest at the home of his brother, W. Downing, on Onalaska avenue.

Mrs. Cronk and two sons of Brice Prairie were guests at the home of J. B. Malay, 2339 Loomis street on Friday.

Miss Blanche Asslin of Kane street is critically ill with pneumonia.

J. B. Callahan is remodeling the interior of his residence at 144 Wood street.

Pat Ward is the guest of friends at Langdon.

Howard Warren is ill at his home on Wood street.

Ole Simonson of Kane street spent yesterday in West Salem.

Charles Shaw is seriously ill at his home on Hager street with scarlet fever.

The Misses May and Rosala Gerkey have returned to their home in Waukon after a short visit at the home of William Dwyer.

Miss Hatch, teacher at the Tenth ward school, left today for her home in Sturgeon Bay. She will spend the spring vacation there.

George B. Marvin has received a telegram from W. L. Sanders announcing the safe arrival of Rev. Sanders at his home at Litchfield.

According to the telegram Mr. Sanders suffered no evil effects as the result of the trip and is in good condition.

C. P. Thompson left for Whitehall today and will spend Sunday as the guest of his parents.

T. A. Lavaque, the South side grocer, will leave for Chicago tonight.

Mrs. C. D. Shepard and son left today for Winona. They will spend the coming week as the guests of relatives.

E. E. Lobeck will deliver a temperance lecture at the Caledonia Street M. E. church tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Lobeck, who is a member of the Minnesota legislature, is a good speaker and the lecture will no doubt be largely attended.

WHY PAY $500 FOR A PIANO AND ONLY $12 FOR A REFRIGERATOR?

when the health of yourself and family depends absolutely on your refrigerator? Unsanitary, zinc-lined refrigerators cause disease—the zinc corrodes and poisons milk and food. The sickness of thousands of children, the stomach troubles and diseases of many men and women can be traced directly to refrigerator poisoned milk and food, yet few people ever think about the kind of refrigerator they may have in their homes.

A clean, dry, sanitary refrigerator will pay for itself every year in saving ice, doctor's bills and waste of food.

FIGHT TONIGHT AT ALDERMANIC CAUCUS

Constituents of both candidates promise a fight at the caucus which is to be held this evening to ascertain whether the name of Mr. George B. Marvin, Jr., or H. M. Swarthout is to be placed on the official republican ballot, in the Ninth ward for the aldermanic election April 7.

Mr. Marvin has resided on the North Side all his life whereas Mr. Swarthout has lived in his ward for about four years.

Constituents of Mr. Swarthout state that the other faction kept the caucus which is to be held this evening a secret until the last hour so that they could have it published just in time to evade the provision of the law.

Mr. Marvin is the well known North Side real estate man and has been secretary of the Franklin club for some time.

It is understood that Mr. Swarthout's constituents will circulate cards today for his support.

MISSING PRISONER IS NOT LOCATED

All trace of Frank Schroeder, who was convicted in county court yesterday on the charge of having pike in his possession, has been lost.

At his preliminary hearing a few days ago he was allowed to go on his own recognizance, but at the trial yesterday he failed to put in an appearance. The fine administered by the judge was sufficient, it is thought, to keep him away for some time. In case he puts in an appearance, he may be brought up for contempt of court and a penalty added to his present sentence.

WRECK ON GREEN BAY KILLS HORSES

In a wreck on the Green Bay road yesterday three horses were killed, when three cars of the combination freight and passenger train were derailed and thrown into a ditch one mile east of Marshland.

The wreck was caused by spreading of the rails.

The passenger coaches were not injured.

A transfer was made of the coaches which were taken to La Crosse from Marshland.

MAN HAS BATTLE WITH MAD BULL

GALESVILLE, Wis., March 28.—

William Raichle, a young farmer living near Frenchville, had a horrible experience with a bull yesterday when he was tossed about with his collar bone broken and finally thrown against a barbed wire fence.

He had led the bull from the farm of Even Hegge and the animal was enraged by the ring pulling out of his nose. After he had fallen under the fence the bull pawed and bellowed over him and broke the man's collar-bone. Passersby were attracted by the noise and came to the rescue. A rescuer fired a gunshot load into the animal's side. The bull charged and another load was planted between his eyes. A boy with a small rifle was unable to cause any marked effect. Hewitt brothers rushed to the scene with a magazine rifle of the deer-hunting pattern and emptied it into him, but although the animal repeatedly fell he would rise and again charge. He finally fell into a deep washout and killed himself by breaking his neck. It was a full-bred Guernsey animal.

BRIDAL PAIR VISIT GROOM'S HOME HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bond who were wedded yesterday morning at Minneapolis by the Rev. Shannon returned to the home of the groom's parents in this city last evening.

OBITUARY.

Daniel Spencer was born in Martinsburg, Lewis county, N. Y., Jan. 16, 1841, the son of Alvin and Barbara Spencer.

The subject of this sketch was raised to farm life and educated in the common schools. He was a soldier in the civil war in Company H, Thirteenth N. Y. Heavy Artillery. He enlisted Dec. 28, 1863, and was discharged in Aug., 1865. He assisted in the capture of Petersburg and Richmond, and his battalion was the last to leave after the taking of the latter city. After the war Mr. Spencer continued farming until 1868, when he came to Jackson county, Wis., settling in Garden Valley, and in the fall of 1869 he entered the employ of Merrill and Ice, and ran their farm in the town of Hixton for eight years. He then went to Black River Falls and farmed until the fall of 1885 when he sold out and went to Greenwood in March 1887, where he resided for six years. He then went to La Crosse where he engaged in the ice business until three years ago when he retired from active labor and bought and moved over to the island where he lived up to the time of his death.

Mr. Spencer was married Nov. 7, 1865, to Mary C. Seark. Of their five children, four are now living: Mrs. Syverson, of Melrose, Wis.; Mrs. Peterson of Greenwood, Wis.; Mr. Spencer of Deer River, Minn., and Mrs. Bryden of Ashland, Ore.

Mrs. Spencer was killed by lightning at Black River Falls, Aug. 11, 1882, during an electric storm, and her eldest son, Clark, died May 30, same year, of scarlet fever, at the age of 14 years.

Mr. Spencer was again married, March 9, 1884, to Mrs. Maria Over-turf. She had four children by her first marriage, three of whom still survive: Mrs. Staats, George and Mrs. Smith, all of whom reside in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer had two children: Bessie and Maude. Mr. Spencer has five brothers and three sisters, all of whom are living. His mother died three years ago at the age of eighty-four, and the father is still living, he being ninety-one years old.

Mr. Spencer experienced religion twenty-four years ago and became a member of the Methodist Episcopal church at Greenwood of which he has been a faithful member up to the time of his death. He was also a member of the John Flynn Post No. 77, G. A. R.

Joseph M. Lavaque, 1009 Division street, a brother of L. E. Lavaque, was taken suddenly ill yesterday, while at his office at the Central Electric company, and is confined at his home. He is in a serious condition.

LADIES' HOSE IS FEATURE OF PARTY

MEN'S SOCKS ARE ALSO DISPLAYED AT VIROQUA

UNIQUE SOCIAL EVENT HELD

Straight and Shear Bound Over to the Circuit Court at Viroqua—Fire Damages Viola Mill

VIROQUA, Wis., March 28.—(Special.)—Twenty-three young ladies responded to the invitations issued by Miss Millie Jefson for Thursday evening. From the invitations it was expected that stockings would be a prominent feature in the evening's entertainment, and upon their arrival the ladies were presented with a pair of hose each, darning cotton and needles and told to do their most skillful darning. There were rips, little holes and big ones, all of which were properly sewed up and filled in. While the judges were deciding on the best work some gentlemen's socks were distributed and the most artistic work was wrought upon these, for, in addition to the necessary darning, the most wonderful designs of flowers and figures and all known embroidery stitches were displayed with various colored darning yarns. The first prize for darning was awarded to Miss Alma Oswald, an embroidered pair of hose, and to Miss Clara Olson second, a box of darning cotton.

The tables were decorated with embroidered hose and the napkins bore blue and pink miniature hose in the corners. The place cards were stocking tags attached to small stockings in all popular varieties as favors. The stockings were filled with candies, but the waiters had amused themselves with performing them, so the ladies could not (if they would) devour the candy contents. The refreshments, with Mrs. Pierce as caterer, were delicious and well served. It was an original and practical way of spending the evening and all report an excellent time.

Fire at Viola

There was a fire Wednesday evening about 5 o'clock at Viola. The Excelsior mill caught fire from a hot box in the machinery and considerable damage was done to the mill and some excelsior stored in the building before the fire department extinguished the blaze. The mill will be idle a few days while the damage is being repaired. The property is owned by J. W. Selle, of Chicago, who has several excelsior mills throughout the state.

Prisoners Bound Over.

The preliminary hearing of the State of Wisconsin vs. Lorenzo Straight and Frank Shear was held Thursday before S. R. Pollard, District Attorney J. H. Bennett appeared for the prosecution and C. J. Smith for the defense. There was a large number of witnesses over from the vicinity of Trippeville and a good deal of interest manifested in the testimony. The defendants were bound over for circuit court.

The farmers having maple sugar camps this spring are very busy caring for the run. Last Sunday one farmer having two hundred pails employed four men to empty them and then lost considerable by the overflowing of the pails. The sap is very sweet this year, has an excellent flavor, and has been one of the best sugar years for some time. Frank Williams is reported as having had twenty barrels of sap for one day's run, and others ranging down to nine barrels.

John McKee went to La Crosse last Saturday for an operation for appendicitis, and this week Friday his wife and a neighbor, Oscar Adams, went up to make him a visit. Mr. McKee stood the operation successfully and is doing well.

Wm. Dolan of Dell was a Viroqua visitor on Thursday of last week.

Miss Mary Emogene Hazeltine of the Madison free library commission has been here this week assisting in the library work.

L. L. Higgins and J. W. Higgins of Readstown were in the city Friday.

The freshmen and sophomore girls of the high school made an exhibit of their needlework and cooking in the domestic science department. Coffee, rolls and cookies were served to the visitors.

ALDRICH BILL GOES THROUGH WITH BOB'S AMENDMENT ADDED

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28.—The Aldrich currency bill passed the senate late yesterday by a vote of 42 to 16, after Senator Nelson's amendment for a government guarantee of bank deposits had been killed and an amendment by La Follette was adopted.

It is understood the bill will now be referred to the banking and currency committee, but should that committee delay in action a caucus of the republicans in the house will be called, and it is predicted the law will be sent to the president before May 1st.

Senator Stephenson, La Follette's colleague, voted for the bill, while La Follette, Borah, Heyburn, Brown and Bourne were republicans voting against it.

The La Follette amendment adopted was a provision to prohibit national banks from investing in other corporations in which officers or directors of the bank are interested. A second La Follette amendment, which was defeated, made it unlawful for national banks to make loans to their officers, or to corporations in which their officers held a majority of the stock. The former amendment was supported by Beveridge, who said it would prevent affairs like the Walsh crime.

BURGLARS APPEAR AT KAMPSCHROER HOME

About 12 o'clock last Thursday evening an attempt was made by robbers to enter the home of J. J. Kampschroer, 215 North Ninth street, but before they had gained entrance they were frightened away by John and Will Kampschroer, sons of Mr. Kampschroer.

Messrs. Kampschroer were awakened by a noise near their window, and hastily made an investigation, but were only able to see the figures of the two robbers disappear in the dark.

They searched the neighborhood for some time, but were unable to find any traces of the thieves. From the description they were able to get as the men disappeared it is supposed they are the same two who attempted to hold up William Schilling and another man Monday night.

MAY PROBE GREEN BAY REFORMATORY

MADISON, Wis., March 28.—(Special.)—Gov. Davidson is greatly exercised over the reports being made by boys, whose terms have expired at the Green Bay reformatory. Today he made public the letter of Superintendent C. W. Bowron, regarding the complaints of Bert Holdridge, recently discharged. Bowron says he finds the complaints were untrue and that this boy was able to earn nearly $200 working overtime, while in the institution. At the same time he says he took lessons in music and shorthand. Just how far the governor is going to look into the charges of individual complaints is not known, but he is devoting considerable attention to the matter.

"PINK" GETS AN EXHIBITION GAME

Manager "Pink" Hawley has been securing teams for exhibition games for the past few weeks and correspondence is now being carried on with a number of teams.

The only team which has positively asked for dates however is the team of Dubuque which is expected to play in La Crosse on May 2 or 3d.

NO NEW TRIAL FOR WAGNER.

MADISON, Wis., March 28.—(Special.)—Judge Stevens today refused to grant a new trial to A. E. Wagner, who was "fired" as book-keeper at a salary of $1,800 from the office of the State Treasurer Dahl, who was found by a jury to be "incompetent and insubordinate." The court's opinion says that inasmuch as Wagner knew one of the jurors had talked with the party who was to get Wagner's job, in case he was fired, before the trial was concluded, and did not tell the court, he cannot take the inconsistent attitude now and say because of this misconduct he should have a new trial. It says Wagner intended to keep still if the decision favored him, and only protested when the case went against him. An appeal will be taken to the supreme court by Wagner.

FUNERAL MONDAY.

The funeral of Mrs. Karl Graffer will take place from the residence, 209 Winnebago street, Monday afternoon, at 1 o'clock. Rev. H. G. Maglessen will conduct the services and interment will take place at the Oak Grove cemetery.

TRANSFER MANUAL TRAINING SCHOOL

At a meeting of the committee on grounds and buildings of the board of education yesterday afternoon, it was decided to install manual training in two of the grammar schools.

When the Sixth district was transferred to the old high school building last fall, manual training was installed and those who desired to take the course were obliged to attend that school.

In view of the fact that the school is poorly located it has been decided to move the manual training department from the old high school building and install it in the First district school and the Sixth district, corner Eighth and Adams street.

Later the committee proposes to have it installed in other schools.

CLAY VERDICT OF $35,000 SUSTAINED

The largest personal injury verdict that had ever stood the test of the supreme court was affirmed yesterday in Minnesota when $35,000 was awarded for personal injuries in the case of Ida B. Clay, administratrix for Louis P. Clay, deceased, vs. the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad.

Clay, an Austin, Minn., young man, was frightfully injured by being caught by a projecting platform and rolled by a car. The suit was brought and the verdict given while he was living, but he died while appeal proceedings were pending.

To Owners of Bad Breath--

Foul Odor of Indigestion, Smoking, Eating or Drinking Stopped at Once With Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges.

Trial Package To Prove It Sent Free.

Bilious breathers, onion eaters, indigestion victims, cabbage consumers, smokers, drinkers and those with gas on the stomach are in a class all by themselves, distinguished by a powerful bad breath.

They all breathe, and as they breathe, they whiff out odor which makes those standing near turn their heads away in disgust. The pitiable part of it is that these victims do not realize what a sickening thing a bad, offensive breath is to others.

Charcoal is a wonderful absorber of gases and odors. It absorbs 100 times its own volume of gas.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges will put a stop to your bad, offensive breath, and to your belchings, whatever the cause or source, because the charcoal quickly absorbs all noxious, unnatural odors and gases.

If you suffer from indigestion and belch gas as a result, Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges will absorb all the gas and make you stop belching.

If on getting up in the morning you have such a bad, bilious breath that you can almost smell it yourself, Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges will get rid of it for you quickly.

If you have been smoking or chewing, or have been eating onions or other odorous things, Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges will make your breath pure and sweet.

Charcoal is also the best laxative known. You can take a whole boxful and no harm will result. It is a wonderfully easy regulator.

And, then, it filters your blood,—every particle of poison and impurity in your blood is destroyed, and you begin to notice the difference in your face first thing,—your clear complexion.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made from pure willow charcoal, and just a little honey is put in to make them palatable, but not too sweet.

They will work wonders in your stomach, and make you feel fine and fresh. Your blood and breath will be purified. You will feel clean inside.

We want to prove all this to you, so just send for a free sample today. Then after you get it and use it, you will like them so well that you will go to your druggist and get a 25c box of these Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS A GREAT VICTORY

DEFEAT HEAVY CALEDONIA TEAM BY 69 TO 21

PLAY A REMARKABLE GAME

Debaters Decide Congress Should Not Have Absolute Authority Over Marriage and Divorce

Although the first team of the high school was handicapped in size and weight they defeated the Caledonia high school team last evening by a score of 69 to 21. The La Crosse boys played a fine game and were far superior to the Caledonia men in guarding and shooting. The game was played at the high school gymnasium and was witnessed by about 100 people. It was the cleanest game of the season, scarcely a foul being called throughout the evening. The chief feature of the playing was the star shooting of Archie Larson, the left forward for the home team, who at the end of the game had most of the points of the home team to his credit.

The lineup of the two teams is as follows:

Caledonia
Forwards—Rollins and Wheaton.
Center—Hundredmark.
Guards—Flynn and Dunden.
La Crosse High School
Forwards—Larson and R. Bradish.
Center—A. Dahlgren.
Guards—Schaldach and W. Tourtelotte.
Umpire—George Walker.

Lincoln-Douglas Debate

The question for debate at the Lincoln-Douglas Debating society last evening was, "Resolved that the constitution should be so amended that the federal congress should have exclusive right to make laws governing marriage and divorce." The affirmative was upheld by Leuning and McArthur and the negative by Moss and Kelly. The critic for the evening was Howard Jones who gave the report that much improvement has been made in the society during the last month. The jury was composed of Cronon, Bjornstad and Mable and rendered a decision unanimous in favor of the negative in the regular debate, and 2 to 1 in favor of the affirmative in the informal.

Wendell Phillips Society

The Wendell-Phillips Debating society last night debated the capital punishment question and decided that capital punishment should not be abolished from the United States. The affirmative was debated by Murphy and Stevenson and the negative was upheld by Rohrbach and Collins. The jury consisted of Youngberg, Brandenburg and Strom. Gardner Withrow criticised the debate. Both societies dispensed with the secret session on account of the Caledonia-high school basketball game which was called at 8:30.

When Driven From Home Susan
Stanley Takes Life—Warrant
Is Now Out

RACINE, Wis., March 28.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Robert Atkinson, and the sheriff was instructed to use every effort to bring him to Racine for trial. Atkinson confessed to his brother's relations with his sister-in-law, Susan Stanley, who committed suicide by drowning in the river Wednesday, after being driven from her home. The body of the young woman was buried at Mount cemetery yesterday afternoon, her fellow employees deploring the expenses.

BESIEGED WITH LETTERS.

NEW LONDON, Wis., March 28.—(Special.)—Besieged with letters from private and public charities since the reported finding of $30,000 on his farm, Louis Hoffman has owned up that the sum was a very ordinary one. The sum that was found in his garden, he says, would "just about take me to 'Frisco and back, with no allowance for candy."

"FALSE JAW" LATEST FAD.

STEVENS POINT, Wis., March 28.—(Special.)—If Mike Strelawicz, a young Pole of this city, recovers from the operation, he will go through life with a false jaw or none at all. The operation was for necrosis of the jawbone and was one of the most delicate ever attempted entirely, and the skin was removed from the upper jaw and the bone was scraped clean of pus.

FENCING KEEPS VIOLA ALLEN'S FIGURE PERFECT

What would the average woman give to retain the grace of her figure indefinitely; to add to that grace perhaps, and to maintain her health and happiness at the same time? What would she give—supposing that she had lost the youthful outline—to get back to the contour that was hers when she was eighteen?

Her new seaklin sash?
Her diamond earrings?
The necklace she was promised by her husband?

The Paquin creations she has promised herself this coming summer?

That three months on the Riviera? Yes, indeed, at least one, and perhaps all of these.

And there is no reason why she should not return to the lost figure; none in the world, provided she is willing to take a little trouble to that end and devote a little of the time she now spends in sitting over the tea-table, or driving in the park with her dog.

At least, that is what Miss Viola Allen says, and she is in a position to know. All women have envied Miss Allen her youthful grace, and never more than when they have watched her upon the stage in Shakespeare, in romantic, or modern drama. Yet according to Miss Allen, the remedy is simplicity itself, and resolves itself into the one word:

Fencing.

From the days when the rapier came into being in Italy in the thirteenth century there has been a school of fence, and very early in the use of this form of sword there have been women exponents of it. Probably the most famous of these was the comtesse Margherita De Vinci, who fought a number of duels in and about Venice, attired in doublet and hose and the long cavalier cloak. Some of these days there will be a history of the sword from the days of Tubal Cain down to the present, and it will be interesting reading. In these days, however, it is upon the stage that the rapier finds its greatest use, and there are many fine fencers in the theatrical profession. Of the women it is said that the honors rest evenly between Miss Allen and Miss Henrietta Crossman. However that may be, Miss Allen has become one of the experts in the use of the blade, and to its continued application she attributes her remarkable health and vigorous enjoyment of life. Each day she practices with it, and when conditions arise wherein she can find no opponent, she makes use of the single blade and the double suspension punching bag.

In her own home on West Forty-sixth street, in New York, Miss Allen has fitted up the upper floor as a "salle d'armes," and there while in New York she takes daily exercise. In her present play, "Irene Wycherley," Miss Allen finds no use for the display of her talents in this direction, but she clings to the foil because of its useful effect upon her personally. Said Miss Allen recently:

"If women only knew the things fencing would do for them, I am sure there would be many of them who would adopt it. In the beginning it furnishes an alternative occupation, and that is something a woman needs. In the second place it gives the ideal form of light exercise; not the heavy muscle straining work that many foolish persons confuse with exercise but a gentle, nerve-strengthening amusement that is indescribably fascinating to all its adherents. It lends poise—and a graceful poise—to the whole body, and it strengthens the waist line into graceful curves that all the special corsets in the world won't give. It quickens the eye in a wonderful manner, and gives a carriage to the head that women would give much for. It induces a lightheartedness of body that is positively exhilarating, and as a tonic, all the drugs in the world are nothing to it. If there were more women who fenced there would be fewer physicians, and while these poor folk would suffer by the innovation, perhaps humanity in the aggregate would manage to find something else for them to do. I have been fencing for six years now, and I would not go back to my other existence for untold riches, for these would be valueless to me.

"I have watched the listless women who drive about with a bored expression upon their pale faces, and I often wish I could take them to my little 'salle d'armes' for a few weeks of fencing. When I should send them back, their families would not know them. I have known women who had permitted grossness to envelop the fine lines of what were once beautiful figures, and who had developed into poor, puling creatures, full of complaints and imaginary ills, and I have induced them to take up fencing with the result that they are now developed, or, perhaps, I should say, redeveloped, into the likeness of what they once were. If I had the influence with our lawmakers I think I should try to get them to pass a law making it compulsory for women to fence an hour each day in the state fencing academies. There would be fewer grave questions to consider in the family life, for I think it is agreed that two-thirds of these strange situations of which the papers are full from day to day, come from an abnormal mind that is brought to that condition by lack of healthful stimulus. The average woman has too much leisure and too little use for her physical being, and anything that will improve the latter will react in a successful manner upon the former.

"Much of my happiness in this world is due to the health I enjoy, and so I think it is with all women. The only way to achieve even comparative peace in this world is to take care of one's physical self, and then to cultivate the mental side of us. The best culture for the body that I know of is fencing, and I am sure if more women realized that, they would be far happier. All of us women are vain in the abstract, and our personal appearance is but one side of our vanity. If we can improve that appearance, or retain what Mother Nature gave us, we will be happy to that extent at least, and it is surely worth while to make a little apparent sacrifice to that end, for, after all, it is not really a sacrifice, but a pleasure, as soon as one progresses a trifle. In the end it becomes a keen enjoyment, and to a woman who has been troubled with lassitude and the countless feminine worries that go with the artificial life, the ease of body that comes with fencing is such a grateful surprise that one becomes mentally exhilarated at once, and the peace of mind that is the result of the foil and mask gives self-confidence and poise evitable. This point Miss Allen emphasized as follows:

"There is a certain balance that must be maintained between the physical and mental selves, and if we draw upon the mental at the expense of the other, the whole system is thrown out of balance, and the result is inevitably a nervous breakdown. I do not propose to suffer such a thing, for life is too short, and there is so much to do and so little time to do it in. I think that is why I have been able to work continuously from year to year, doing heavy work and doing it as well as I am capable. I have never really required what we are pleased to call a 'rest cure' since I took up fencing, for I am always rested. You see, change of occupation is really rest, and when we have two occupations, one mental that we may enjoy, and the other, physical, that we find delight in, the result is a perfect combination."

The part of her story that Miss Allen modestly withheld is to be gleaned from other sources, and touches on her sojourn in Italy when she was preparing for her appearance in "The Palace of the King" some few years ago. Being the home of the rapier, Miss Allen was inordinately interested in all that pertained to the weapon, and she met several notable exponents of the art. The thing that is told with intense glee by her friends is that Miss Allen was privately introduced to Signor Luigi Granati, who is the maître d'armes who has won fame as an expert with the foils in Rome. Miss Allen at once became deeply interested and visited the "salle d'armes" presided over by Signor Granati on several occasions. Then, by slow degrees she was led on to fully don the mask and take the blade against the Italian master, with the result that she acquitted herself most creditably, and on one occasion frankly puzzled the eminent maestro by rapidly changing her blade from the right hand to the left and pressing him hard so that that cannot be too highly estimated. Women who have grown gross—even a little gross—can get back all the lost arts and graces and that old body they have done so much to destroy, if they'll only spend just a little time in humoring it."

Miss Allen waxed positively enthusiastic over the delights and the benefits of fencing, and was at pains to illustrate the truth of what she said by the quick, confident movements that embody the art of the rapier. Every gesture she makes is a picture, and she has the grace of the panther, and the firm wrist of the strong, healthy woman when she shakes hands. She is without question the living example of what she preaches, and she insists that she would never be able to go through the exacting role she has been playing of late years unless she kept herself in perfect condition. In her newest play, "Irene Wycherley," there are moments which tax her nervous system to the breaking point, and she asserts that if she was not kept in first class physical condition, a break-down would be inevitable, and she would be forced to rely entirely upon his defensive.

Later Miss Allen discovered it was all a trick on the part of her friends to show her mettle, and to give an exhibition that was enjoyed by several dozen persons who were hidden in a gallery. She took satisfaction in the thought that she had not disgraced her American training, and while she was a little flattered at the thought that she had unwittingly exhibited her talents to a number of the best people in Rome, she never mentioned the matter again. Curiously enough Miss Allen learned her fencing, the initial stages of it, at least, from her father, Charles Leslie Allen, who will long be remembered as one of our best American actors, and who until this season has been a member of his daughter's companies.

Mr. Allen and his daughter now take up the foil quite regularly together, and each insists that the other is the best antagonist either ever had. But Miss Allen is firm in her

"WALLS OF JERICO" HERE IN A WEEK

HERBERT KELCEY AND EFFIE SHANNON IN CAST

THE PLAY IS SEASON LEADER

Famous Players Will Present Piece Made Famous by James K. Hackett Last Year

One needs to go, not so very far back in order to revive pleasant memories of the times when Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon were the bright and shining lights of Daniel Frohman's old Lyceum Theatre Stock company.

Since then a mighty revolution in theatrical affairs has taken place. There are no such stock organizations nowadays as the Lyceum, Daly's, Wallack's or Madison Square. All of the favorites of those days have drifted away, some may be counted among the weary travelers who have gone to rest. Now and then some familiar name of an actor or actress is to be found in the cast of a play which has exceeded the long run limit. Mr. Kelcey and Miss Shannon, however, soon after their retirement from the Lyceum stock, formed a co-partnership which has continued without interruption to the delight of all lovers of high class artistic stage endeavor, and the mere announcement that these two stars are to appear jointly in a new play, is always sufficient to command attention out of the usual. Hence the special interest being manifested in the presentation of "The Walls of Jericho" with Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon, at the La Crosse theatre next Saturday, April 4, after noon and evening.

Ernest Shipman under whose managerial direction these eminent co-stars are touring, promises a cast and production of great importance.

TODAY AND SUNDAY AT THE THEATRE

A representative Irish-American audience filled the opera house last night to see Bernard Daly, who is fittingly described as "Erin's Sweetest Singer," appear in Joseph Murphy's successful drama, "The Kerry Gow." A large delegation from Patterson council, Knights of Columbus, were also on hand, the star being a prominent member of that society.

The play, itself, is a clever production in which pathos is blended with humor, and a strong love story runs through the four acts. The first act takes place on Drew Farm, the setting for which is very beautiful, representing a splendid Irish estate. Here the story of the play gets its inception and is worked in an interesting manner until its happy conclusion in the final act.

Mr. Daly appeared as Dan O'Hara, "The Kerry Gow" and gave a masterful interpretation of the role. The several typical Irish songs which he renders during the progress of the play took the house by storm, and earned for him well merited applause. Raymond Drew, as Dan's chum, was very good as was also J. H. Huntley, who filled a difficult part in an acceptable manner. Claret Dalton made a charming sweetheart, and her work throughout the production was of high order. The entire company is well balanced, while the costumes and scenic effects were in keeping with the demands of the play.

At La Crosse theatre today and Sunday, matinee and night.

True love and ghosts are often talked about but seldom seen.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

THE ORIGINAL REMEDY THAT KILLS THE DANDRUFF GERM

"Traveling as I do continuously, I have been troubled a great deal with dandruff and falling hair, and until I tried Herpicide I never found a remedy that was satisfactory.

Herpicide is a delightful preparation that fulfills the claims made for it, and no lady's toilet is complete without it. I highly recommend it to my friends."

(Signed) ANNIE OAKLEY.

It is certainly significant that Miss Oakley, the celebrated rifle shot and theatrical star, who has traveled so extensively abroad, should choose Newbro's Herpicide as the most efficacious toilet remedy for the scalp. No one will doubt her opportunity to choose the best and those who have seen the natty and winsome Miss Oakley, will not doubt her power of discrimination in matters of this sort.

Newbro's Herpicide is a scientific germicide and prophylactic for the hair and scalp. It destroys the germ or microbe that causes dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, after which the hair will grow as nature intended, except in cases of incurable baldness. Extraordinary results sometimes follow the continued use of Newbro's Herpicide.

If your hair is dull, brittle or lustrous, don't wait until it begins to fall, but save and beautify it with Newbro's Herpicide. In addition to its wonderful medicinal qualities, Newbro's Herpicide is the daintiest and most delightful refreshing hair dressing available. The first application proves its goodness. Try it.

Herpicide contains no grease, it will not stain or dye, background for the refreshments. A number of little friends assisted them in making the afternoon a very happy one.

ENTERTAINS GLEE CLUB

Last Tuesday the Y. W. C. A. Glee club held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Lucy Hogan, the leader. After the singing light refreshments were served by the hostess and a delightful evening was spent. Next week the club will meet on Monday evening. Instead of Tuesday. All members are urged to be present to practice for the annual meeting Monday at 7:30 p. m. The Bible classes will meet as usual. There will be no cooking class as Miss Elkhinton has gone home to spend her vacation.

W. B. U. DANCE

WELL ATTENDED

The dance at the W. B. U. last evening was a great success, about fifty couples being in attendance. Excellent music was furnished by the La Crosse theatre orchestra.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A very pleasant birthday celebration was enjoyed by Miss Elsie Baldwin of 520 South Sixth street, last evening when a number of her young friends joined in helping her to commemorate her fifteenth birthday. Supper was served about half after nine, and the evening thoroughly enjoyed. Those present were Misses Frieda Schultz, Elsie Schultz, Flora Cohen, Tressa Cohen, Sylvia Byrne, Mona Byrne, Lillian Ruprecht, Dorothy Ruprecht, Ruth Colman, Gladys Earling, Carlotta Baldwin and Elsie Baldwin.

MISSION CIRCLE.

The Mission Circle of the Caldonia St. M. E. church will hold their thank offering tea at the home of Mrs. Silhouette, 1402 George street, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

COMING WEDDING.

A wedding that will bring a bride to La Crosse, will be that of Mr. Frederick W. Conklin of this city, son of Madam Conklin, the milliner, and Miss Nancy A. Given of St. Paul. The event will take place on Wednesday, April 15, and they will make their future home at 1108 King street.

Miss Barbara Russell who is teaching music in the Evanston schools, will spend her Easter vacation among old friends in La Crosse.

BOY TORTURED BY AWFUL HUMOR

Almost Covered with Eczema—No Night's Rest for Nearly a Year—Feared Lifelong Disfigurement—All Treatments Failed and Limit of Endurance Seemed Near.

PERFECT RECOVERY IS DUE TO CUTICURA

"With the exception of his hands and feet, my son Clyde (thirteen years old) was almost completely covered with eczema. Physicians treated him for nearly a year without helping him any. While they were very kind and did all in their power, yet nothing seemed to relieve him. And I had tried many remedies sent to me by kind friends but they all failed. His head, face, and neck were covered with large sores which he would rub until they fell off. Then blood and matter would run out and that would be worse. Many a time he looked as if his ears would drop off. Friends coming to see him said that if he got well he would be disfigured for life. "When it seemed as if he could possibly stand it no longer, I decided to try Cuticura. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent. I used them in the evening and that was the first night for nearly a year that he slept. This may sound exaggerated to you, but in the morning there was a great change for the better. In about six weeks you could not have told that he had ever had anything wrong with him. I treated him twice a day for six months and at present he has a fine complexion and not a scar on his body. This story may seem overdone, but neither words nor pen can describe Clyde's suffering and how he looked. Our leading physician, Dr. ———— recommends the Cuticura Remedies for eczema. Mrs. A. J. Cockburn, Shiloh, O., June 11, 1907.

Frequent sharpsoos with Cuticura Soap and weekly dressings with Cuticura stop falling hair, remove crusts, scales, and dandruff, destroy hair parasites, soothe irritated, itching surfaces, stimulate the hair follicles, supply the roots with nourishment, loosen the scalp skin, and make the hair grow upon a sweet, wholesome, healthy scalp, when all other remedies fail.

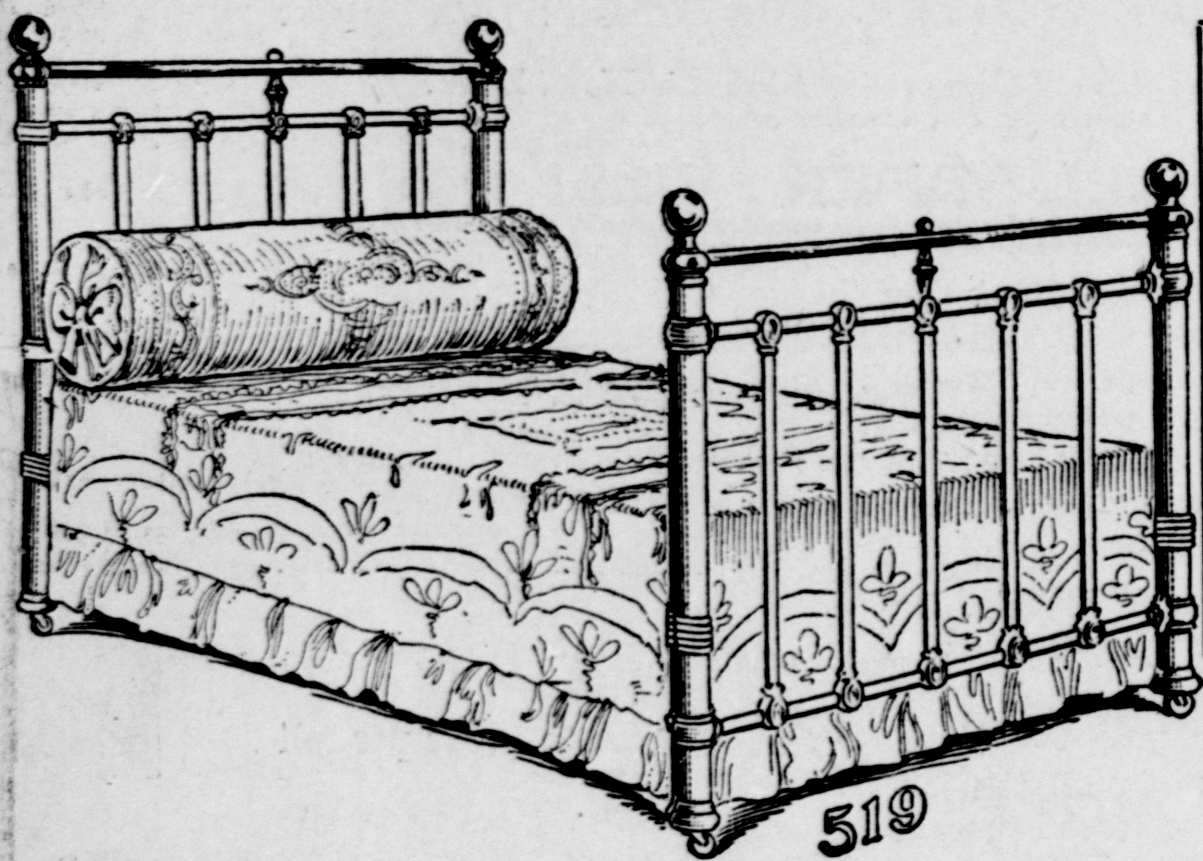

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humour of Itch, Children and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.) to Purify the Blood. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. See Detailed Free Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

BIRTHDAY HAPPENINGS.

One of the pleasantest birthday functions of the week was that of Franklin John Pamperin, who entertained several of his little friends on Thursday, his fifth birthday. It was decidedly informal, as up to the time of the appearance of the diminutive guests, no one had any intimation of anything of the kind except Master Franklin himself. When the door bell rang, and numerous small people were ushered in to the "party," amazement was quickly succeeded by hospitality, and the surprised mother grasped the situation beautifully. The afternoon was as delightfully spent as if all kinds of preparations had been indulged in, and the daily supper which but a short time before had been peacefully reposing on the grocer's shelves, was most hugely enjoyed by the seven impromptu guests.

Mrs. Fred Hell will entertain about fourteen guests this afternoon in honor of her birthday.

Miss Anna Pamperin will be at home informally to her friends this afternoon, the occasion being her birthday.

LUNCHEON.

Mrs. W. S. Cargill, 311 West avenue south, entertained at a one o'clock luncheon today for Miss Antoinette MacMillan, one of the spring brides. Covers were placed for twelve.

ENTERTAINED CHOIR.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Faville entertained the Vesper choir, composed of about thirty of the young people of the church, at the supper which was given Thursday evening by the Ladies' circle of the Congregational church. After supper, many delightful selections were rendered and an organization of the choir perfected. The following were elected officers: President, Homer Davis; vice president, Glen Thompson; secretary and treasurer, Allan Werner. The choir sings at the evening services and is under the direction of Prof. Harry Packman.

FOR VISITING GUEST

Miss Louise Harrison will entertain this evening for Mr. Walter Peck of Galesburg, Ill., who is visiting Dr. Morikubo.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Central W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. E. A. Sloane, 331 North Seventh street, on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

On Thursday evening, the Woman's union of the Congregational church will give one of their popular suppers to which every one is cordially invited. The following ladies will be the hostesses: Mesdames Frank Davis, Frank Winter, T. H. Spence, McArthur, Sr., Tollefson, McIntosh, Sisson and Esch.

The Universalist ladies will have an apron sale and a supper in the church parlors on Thursday. A business meeting will precede the sale which begins at 3 o'clock. At 6 o'clock a bountiful supper will be served, every one being welcome. The hostesses are: Mesdames Elta Chamberlain, Fred Smith, Blashek and Frank Bailey.

The Mission study class of the Congregational church will meet on Monday evening with Mrs. Alfred James on North Seventh street.

The Ibsen club will meet next Friday with Mrs. Borreson on the North side.

Mrs. A. Haller will entertain the Ladies' Aid society of the English Lutheran church at the church next Wednesday afternoon.

The Junior Luther league meets Wednesday at 7 p. m. The Senior L. L. will have its monthly business and social meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mr. Geo. Youngberg, 710 Ferry street.

The Sewing circle of West Avenue M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Wm. Rehfuess, Seventeenth and Mississippi streets, Thursday afternoon.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB.

The Twentieth Century club held an interesting meeting on Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. Paul Pamperin, 130 South Ninth street. The lesson which was on the lives and work of Dominichino and Guido Reni, the Italian painters, was led by Mrs. C. F. Emery. Mrs. Soderberg gave an outline of Dante's "Divine Comedy," which proved to be one of the most interesting things the club has had. On next Tuesday evening the club will have an Italian program, interspersed with music and readings at the home of Mrs. Doerflinger, 14 South Fourteenth street, to which each member is privileged to invite her husband or one friend. The decorations will be the following young women, in Italian costume, will assist in the serving: Misses Frieda Michel, Viola Doerflinger, Miriam Harrison and Emma Gund.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Mr. and Mrs. Lehrbach were pleasantly surprised at their home in the McDonald flats, last evening, by a number of the Eastern Star people, who came in unexpectedly on them to the number of thirty. Clinch was the amusement of the evening, and several musical selections, both vocal and instrumental, were much enjoyed. Delicious refreshments were served at eleven o'clock and a very enjoyable time was had. Mr. and Mrs. Lehrbach will soon leave La Crosse, to make their future home in Arcadia, Wis.

AFTERNOON COMPANIES.

Mrs. Homer Hart, 122 North Seventh street, entertained eight ladies at an informal coffee on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Theodore Arntz was hostess at a pretty luncheon yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Madagan of Duluth, Minn., was the guest of honor. Covers were placed for the following guests: Mrs. Charles Schreier, Mrs. Fred Spiech, Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. Will Shuman, Mrs. Madagan and Miss Solvig Braaton.

FAREWELL PARTY.

A pretty party was given yesterday afternoon for little Bessie and Marie Wiggenhorn, by their grandmother, Mrs. John Pamperin, which was somewhat in the nature of a farewell, for they will soon go to Minneapolis to make their home. The decorations were extremely beautiful, baskets of fluffy chickens and eggs, and perky Easter rabbits placed around the table forming a dainty

THE WAY OF IT.

A little boy made him a wee snow ball.
And rolled it about in the snow,
And it gathered the crystals, and clung to them all,
And, oh! how that snow ball did grow.
Oh, My!
You've made one, of course, so you know.

A little boy whispered a word one day,
Unkind of some one he knew;
And each one who heard it repeated
his way
The story, till oh, how it grew!
Oh, My!
And a heartache was caused by it too!
Two little red mittens, the small ball rolled,
That grew in such magical way;
And a little red tongue was the one that told
The tale that grew big in a day.
Oh, My!
Be careful, wee tongues, what you say.

MANY JUNIORS GET HOMESICK

Dear Miss Burton:
As the topic for this week is "Homesickness," I will tell of my experience. My papa brought me here last summer one Monday afternoon. It was late when I got here. I was not so home sick that day. But the next day when I saw that I was not with my papa I began to cry. My little sister asked me what was the matter. I did not tell her because she, too, would cry.
Then I wrote a letter to my papa,
and I always kept telling the girls
that my papa was coming and I was going home. But I did not go far. When my papa came a few days after I asked him to take me home
but he told me that I would like it here after I became acquainted.
Papa came almost every week at first. He does not live in La Crosse but in Kendall. I cried many a time and wrote to papa to take me home
but he always told me that I would soon like it here. And now I do, indeed, love it here. Not long ago papa said to me, "I think you would be sorry now if I had taken you home when you wanted to go so badly for now you can attend school every day and can learn to do many other little things." When I am old enough I am going to keep house for my dear papa.

Your loving junior,
LOUISA BUNK,
Age 12 Years,
1071 Market St.

Dear Miss Burton:
As the subject for this week is homesickness, I will write and tell you about the time when I was homesick. I am here about five years now. I came here one summer afternoon with my papa and my sister and my brothers. When my papa went home I cried all the time. I did not like to stay here. I wanted to go home with my papa. When the girls ate supper I would not eat anything I was so homesick. When we were going to bed my papa came.
I was so glad I did not know what I do not remember much about when I came. My sister Mary was nine years old and my brother Anthony was six years old and Leo was four years old. It didn't take so very long to get over my homesickness because there were so many little girls to play with and all were kind to me. I don't remember much about this time as it was quite awhile ago.

Your loving junior,
AUGUSTA DEFORIN,
Age 11 years,
1017 Market St.

My Dear Miss Burton:
Many little girls are homesick
when they come to a strange place and see other strange little girls, at least I was when I left my home and came here. I was four years old then. Now I am eleven years old. It was very hard for me to part from my dear mamma. My two sisters came with me also. I cried all day for mamma, but after awhile there were so many playmates and little girls here that I forgot about mamma. But when it was time for bed then I missed mamma and began to cry again. The next day I was not as homesick but still I missed mamma very much. She came to see me quite often. I never get homesick
now, for I have been here so long.
I do not remember much about when I came here for I was only four years old. We lived on the north side before, but now my home is above the Tribune printing office.

Your loving junior,
HAZEL MARTELL,
Age 11 years,
1717 Market St.

My Dear Miss Burton:
As our topic for this week is
"When I Get Homesick," I will write about once when I got homesick. My cousins came in to get me to go to the country with them, so mamma got me ready to go. After a ride of about 8 miles, we reached their home. Then I played awhile and went into eat my supper and then went to bed. I had lots of fun but towards the close of the first week
I got homesick and wanted to go home.

The next day mamma papa and my cousins came out to get me.

I was glad when I saw them coming down the road. I could hardly wait till they drove up to the house.

I will close as I do not know any more about this. Regards to all the Juniors.

Your Junior,
IDA KOBLITZ,
Age 11. 320 North Fourth St.

LETTERS THAT WERE TOO LATE FOR LAST WEEK A NEW MEMBER

Dear Miss Burton:
As I see so many of my friends
write to the Sunshine club I would like to join too. I should like to be on the "Blue" side. I will try and do one kind action every month. I am 12 years old. My teacher's name is Miss Mueller. I go to the Tenth Ward school and am in the 5B grade.
I should like to see my letter in print.

Your Junior,
NELLIE LARSON,
1453 Charles St.

Kind Miss Burton:
I shall write again. This time I will write about a journey. I will tell you what I saw when I went to Minneapolis. I saw lots of things, animals of all kinds and I saw the Minnehaha falls, too. I passed lots of rivers, too, and we went over a great many bridges. Well I guess this is all I have to say.

Your friend,
ALVILDA MOE,
Age 12 years.

FRANCES NEVER FORGETS US

My Dear Miss Burton:
As you wanted us to write about a "Pleasant Journey" I will tell about a journey that I enjoyed last summer on the steamer La Crosse from Wabasha to La Crosse.
The boat was manned by my grandfather Captain H. C. Wilcox, and sons.
We started one beautiful morning
in July about 7 o'clock.
It was delightful to sit on the open recess and gaze at the beautiful scenery along the riverside.
Our first stopping place was Alma, Wis., which is a very pretty little town situated at the foot of several picturesque bluffs.

Our next landing was Minneka Minn. It is not a very large town but I like it just the same. The railway is right along the river bank and when the boat arrives there the train is just coming in.

We next stopped at Fountain City,
Wis. This town is named after a natural fountain which is about in the center of the town. You can see this fountain from the boat.

The next landing was the city of Winona. They have a very pretty "Levee Park" here and my sister and myself got off the boat and walked around the park.

When we were "pulling out" of Winona we ate our dinner. We next landed at Trempealeau, Wis. It is an old town and it is very quiet
there.

We then stopped at several places
such as Richmond, Dakota and Dresbach.

We arrived at La Crosse, a beautiful city, about half-past two p. m.
and thus ended our delightful journey.

Your loving Junior,
FRANCES LYONS,
Plainview, Minn.

WENT CLEAR TO THE COAST

My Dear Miss Burton:
I left home Monday morning, took the Burlington train at 8:30 for Dayton Bluff. Arrived at Dayton Bluff
at noon, took dinner with friends, and after dinner went to visit the fish hatcheries and in there we saw all kinds, from the largest to the smallest. From there we went to the Indian Mound park. We had a good time, and then took the street car for St. Paul and went to the Union depot and there was a lunch counter.
We had our supper and at 10:30 took the N. P. train and started for our journey and the next noon we were in Fargo, N. D. When we were going through the country we saw ranches. You could tell the ranch house by the groves of trees. They were planted about two feet apart.
The next place was Mandan, N. D.
It was a nice little town. Then we went from Dickinson, N. D., to Glimville, Mont. Between these two cities are known as the regions of the bad lands. The scenery through the bad lands is very nice. Montana was the first place that we saw mountains,
and when we were climbing the mountain we could look down and could see people traveling and they looked like little children; then we went through Idaho. Don't remember much about that place, then through Washington. Arrived at Tacoma Friday afternoon at 2:30.
From the depot we took the cable car for our cousin's. After dinner my cousin took me up town and showed me all around. Tacoma is built all in rows. Going up the hill there I saw large sail boats. Many of these sail boats came from Liverpool. I also saw the battleship Wisconsin. One day I went to an excursion to Seattle.
I do not remember much about it.
I thought it was a nice place and lots of kind people. There is lots more things I could write about but I am afraid my letter would be too long.
Hoping to see my letter in print, although I am kind of late.

Your loving Junior,
BLANCHE ASSELIN.

Dear Miss Burton:
I thank you and The Tribune for the book. It was quite a surprise to me when I read the Junior page and saw I was the prize winner. I enjoy very much to read the Junior page, and the Junior stories. As our topic
this week is "When I was Homesick," I will tell about my stay in Norway. I closed my last letter as I was at my uncle's place in Throndenes. It was a pretty island. The people most all had little farms and were fishing besides. We were to the church which was a great store building which is nearly 800 years old. It was built in 1115. There are many old relics in it. While the summer was it was light all the time. But in the last of September the days got short. In the first days of October we had winter. Then I was awful homesick when I thought of how nice it was in La Crosse.

At first I thought that Norway was best and nicest, but then thought that La Crosse was best of all. So then we started for home. The winter had come and the leaves had fallen off the trees. We took the steamer around the coast and stopped at several places, but the largest place was Bergen, which has one of the biggest harbors in Norway.

We took the steamer which goes straight to America. It was very stormy on the Atlantic ocean. How glad we were when we landed in New York. We didn't stop any there, as we were so anxious to get to La Crosse.

Your Junior,
LILLIAN OPSAHL,
1512 Charles street. 9 years old.

WHEN I WAS HOMESICK.

Kind Miss Burton:
As I saw the topic was to be
"When I was Homesick," I thought I would write about the first days I went to school. The first days I went to school I got homesick and told the teacher I wanted to go home, and she said: "Yes." I wanted to go home every day because I was homesick. I got sickly and had to quit school for about one month. I started again then and I got homesick almost every day for the first couple of weeks, but at last I understood I had to go to school. This is about the only time I have been homesick.
I just about can mention what homesick is. I will close for this time.

Your loving Sunshine.

ESTHER NOEM,
1711 Charles street, age 10 years.
(P. S.—I should think that when summer comes it would be fun that all the Juniors meet some place.)

Dear Miss Burton:
I will try and write a few lines
about when I was homesick.

When we lived at Black River Falls we lived in the country, and my grandma wanted me to come and spend my vacation in town with her,
and I wanted to go very bad, so mamma let me go. But I had never thought of being homesick. When I had been there a few days, I became very homesick, but I tried hard not to let any one know it, but grandma thought I was lonesome, so she tried every way to have me enjoy myself, but it did not last long. Every once in a while I would have that same lonely feeling.

One afternoon I was going to see my aunt who also lived in town, on my way down there I met my mamma coming. As soon as I saw her I felt better right away and I was ready to go home as soon as she was.

I was sick for the last two weeks,
so I did not write for the Junior page. I will close now, as I have nothing more to write.

I remain your friend,
VERNICE PAQUETTE,
French Island.

Age 11 years.

Dear Miss Burton:
I have never been away from home
so I will write a story which my sister has told me, as I think it will interest the Juniors, if it is not too long to print.

I think I would like to be one of the "Reds."

Your loving friend,
LAURA LEWISON.

WHEN MY SISTER WAS HOME-SICK

When my sister was a little girl
she didn't like to stay away from home.

Once my uncle, who lives about two miles from Lansing, wanted her to stay with auntie for a week. At first she did not want to go but mamma told her that she ought to go.

She took her dolls with her and thought she would sell for them.

But in the evening when it grew dark, and everything seemed so quiet
she was in a room alone. She could hear the frogs creaking near the house and that frightened her. She could hear crickets chirping right in the room where she was and she was so frightened that she cried herself to sleep.

Auntie was good to her but she had no little children, so she didn't think she might be homesick. She would go behind the barn and cry. It seemed as though Saturday would never come.

Tuesday evening she thought of a splendid plan. She would walk to Uncle John's who lived near, about a mile away, and ask him to take her to town. Wednesday morning she was so anxious to go home that she got up at half-past five in the morning and walked to uncle's. He felt so very sorry for her that he took her to town at once. When she got home she was so glad that she cried.

A CHAT WITH THE EDITOR.

My Dear Sunshine Juniors:
Many nice "Homesick" letters have come in, and I know it is a real pleasure to all of you to read these different stories from the other Juniors. I guess we all of us know what it is to be a little homesick, some time or other in our lives. Very good,
Juniors, and there is only one thing
I am going to mention, that you might do a little better at, and that is —getting your letters in a little earlier in the week. You remember I told you that the last part of the week was such a busy time, and nearly every week there are one or two letters that have to wait over. Now, try and get your letters mailed early in the week. You have been very good about trying to do things just as I ask you, and I feel that this is indeed a most willing little club of "Sunshine Juniors." I told you a week or two ago that I hoped we would be able this spring to do some real "Sunshine" work. Now I know of a little boy of 11 years old, whose papa and mama have had a very very hard time to get along this winter. And this little boy has to go to school with just the poorest clothes on you ever saw. Of course he can't help it, but it makes him feel bad, you know. He has had to wear his mother's shoes, because his are all worn out, and of course they didn't fit him at all. Then this boy's mother has not been very well, and she is absolutely out of anything to wear.

The father got into some trouble and he has been taken away from his family for nearly a month, and the landlady has been kind enough to say that she will let her have one month's rent free, so that is provided for. But the mother and the boy
both need clothes, and the woman would be glad to get any kind of house cleaning to do. Then there is another lady who has a tiny baby,
and a little girl nearly two years old,
and whose husband has not been able to get very steady work, and many things are needed in this home. Kind friends have given so readily to it case, and the little baby has been given quite a few nice clothes, but the little girl two years old has hardly anything to wear.

So many times it is the little things that count, one thing from here, and one thing from there, and if the "Sunshine Juniors" knew that they could help some one in distress, I am sure they would be delighted to do so. I also heard of an old lady who is bed-ridden and can't even walk around her house any more.

Her husband died just a little while ago, and left her all alone.
Wouldn't she be glad to get some pretty flowers, or some little token that every one had not forgotten her?
There is something all the time, that we can do to bring a little sunshine into the lives of others. As far as possible names of people will not be mentioned in this column, but they may be learned at this office,

and anything the Juniors wish to do or wish to help with, just let Miss Burton know about it, and she will help you to do just the right thing.

Would you all like to help to get this little boy that I spoke of some nice new shoes for Easter? We might give a penny or two pennies each and if there wasn't quite enough by Easter time, we would make it up down
here at the office.

Now, Juniors, this is something practical, and I know the little boy would be so glad.

For next week your topic will be
"Kindness." Write a story that contains the word "kind" or kindness, something that you know about, or something that you make up, but it must contain these words. Now, Juniors, you keep your eyes open,
too, and if you can find out about anybody that would like some "Sunshine" let us know about it, won't you?

One of the girls mentions that it would be nice for us all to get together in the summer; yes, I think that would be lovely, maybe we can have a picnic.

Hoping to have many letters from you this week, I remain, dear Sunshine Juniors,

Your friend,
BERTHA BURTON.

JUN OR STORY

LITTLE JOE'S TEMPTATION.

Mama Brown had been making tomato figs. Little Joe had helped her,
at least he thought he had, for he had tasted the figs several times,
and watched the golden fruit bubble
in the rich syrup. But he hadn't half enough, and Mama Brown said they were too rich for little boys. But Joe would have been glad to try it at least for once. The figs were set away in the big, dark cupboard off
the dining room, where there were shelves full of preserves and little pots of jam and jellies.

What a feast just to look at them!

Joe would steal in on tip toe sometimes when mama was busy and gaze till he would have to run away with his hand over his mouth to keep from tasting them. But, alas! one day he stayed too long, and before he knew it he was nibbling the figs. Just then he heard mama coming. What should he do? He had but a moment to choose, and he squeezed right into the bottom shelf of the cupboard and swung the door to.

Ah, those tempting figs! And boys are always so hungry!

But he would never come near the cupboard again—that was certain.

While he was thus thinking, his mother stepped across the dining room and shut the cupboard door—snap. She went out so quickly that he had no time to call to her, and then he heard the front door shut.
Too! She had gone over to Aunt Helen's, he knew. Oh, dear! he could not get out! And he thought, he should die if he had to stay there long. He began to feel queer at once, and he shouted with all his might and pounded and kicked the door with his brown heels till the jam pots rattled. Grandma was taking a nap upstairs, but she could not hear—she was deaf.

It was no use; he must stay there till mama came back. And, oh how slowly the old clock ticked! The seconds seemed minutes and the minutes, hours. But after about half a hour, he heard his mother talking,
and the next moment she came in with Uncle Tom. Didn't Joe just lift up his voice then? The whole house rang with his shouts, and in no time almost, he tumbled out of the shelf
into his mother's arms, sobbing: "I only wanted to taste a to-mato—"

"What, not me, I hope?" cried Uncle Tom, in mock affright.

"A to-mato fl-i-g," wailed
Joe.

And then the whole story of his temptation came out. His mother talked with him kindly and earnestly, and he felt sure that he should never, never do it again.

STANDING OF THE CLUB.

The standing of the club two weeks
ago was as follows:

Blues 51

Reds 43
Vernice Paquette was put on the "Blues" by mistake, so this transfer makes it 51 and 43. The last two weeks have seen six new members
join our club as follows:

Reds—May Leeske, captain; Mabel Mason, Laura Lewison, Hazel Hoyt.
Blues—Edna James, captain; Stella Schollberg, Wade FAVOR, Charlotte Lumley.

Present standing of the club:

SOME THINGS OF INTEREST

What would you think of a church that it took fifty years to build?

Well, in New York
America's City there is one,
largest and it is a Catholic Cathedral.

ed "The Cathedral of St. John the Divine." It is situated at One Hundred and Tenth street and Amsterdam avenue, and it will not be finished until 1950. It will surpass in cost and beauty any church building in this country, and will rank with the grand old historical ones in Europe.

KISSES.

A kiss when I wake in the morning,
A kiss when I go to bed,
A kiss when I burn my fingers
A kiss when I bump my head.

A kiss when my bath is over,
A kiss when my bath begins;
My mamma is as full of kisses,
As my nurse is full of pins.

The Feminine Speculator

Husband (horried)—Good heavens, Maria! What does this mean—you dabbling in speculation.

Wife—I wanted to make money
same as you do.

Husband—But what possessed you to buy the stocks that were so low and going down?

Wife (sobbing)—Because they seemed such lovely bargains.—Baltimore American.

As a rule the nicer a girl is to a young man the less she cares about him.
